KNOWLTON INDICTED IN GIRL KILLING

Depew, Wise Man
Another Special Baby
Dangerous Arbitrators

—By Arthur Brisbane—

CHAUNCEY M. DEPEW, dead in his 94th year, older than the Republican party, which he served long and faithfully, said: "I have lived long because I could laugh at anything."

Of Napoleon it was said that in his youth "no one ever saw him laugh." He didn't live 93 years, but he did live more in one day than amiable Mr. Depew in all his 94 years.

Chauncey Depew attended 8000 banquets and never let boredom drive him into eating too much. That's wisdom.

He campaigned for Lincoln, got $1.75 for his first legal services, lived under 24 Presidents, from Andrew Jackson to Calvin Coolidge, and knew 13 of them personally. How many can name the 24 from Jackson on?

Milton wrote: "Hail, wedded love, mysterious law, true source of human offspring." Miss Sylvia Pankhurst doesn't agree with that.

A photograph shows her holding a child, called by reporters "a love baby," as though that were a special breed.

Miss Pankhurst, who is unmarried and declines to name the child's father, is mistaken in the idea that her demonstration of a strong mind "will contribute to woman's freedom."

If the idea spread too far it would contribute to woman's misery.

It has taken men one million years to climb up from a "pithecanthropoid" state to semi-decency in married life, and it ought not to go back.

Uncle Sam and Holland claimed a little island called Las Palmas, between the Dutch East Indies and the Philippines. Max Huber, Swiss statesman, named arbitrator, gives Holland the island.

Holland would also have got Pike's Peak had that mountain been included in the arbitration.

We're not complaining, of course, but let's hope nothing really important will ever be submitted by this nation to a foreign world court.

Good news for Detroit and prosperity generally is the employing of more men by the Ford Motor Company. Ford's working total is now 97,565 men, only 12,435 below the peak figures in 1926. A payroll of more than $600,000 a day, about $180,000,000 a year, is not so bad.

The stock market quit yesterday for a three-days' rest. For the first time on record the brokers stop work on Saturday following Good Friday. Nothing to do now until Monday.

Anything can happen between Friday and Monday, and fear of the unknown usually sends stocks down. Yesterday confidence in the UNKNOWN sent stocks up.

New York merchants report business excellent, in women's apparel. They buy more of it and less of it, more garments, less material in them. Paper underwear for ladies makes its appearance in several stores.

Silk of wood, underwear of paper—not pleasant news for cotton growers.

Good from evil. Senator Borah wanted $160,000 to pay moneys given by Mr. Sinclair to the Republican party. The idea was to make the old Republican lady an honest girl. Enthusiasm died out after $7000 had been contributed, and that money will go to the striking miners with hungry children. That's 7000 times better than giving it to Mr. Sinclair.

In Cannes, on the blue Mediterranean, where no prohibition weighs you down, a Chicago gentleman, aged 52, and feeling generous, threw 40,000 francs from a hotel balcony to enjoy the sight of screaming men and women scrambling for the money.

That sort of thing explains certain European ideas about Americans.

On April 17, friends of Governor Smith will formally announce his candidacy for the Democratic presidential nomination. They might quite safely announce, simultaneously, that he will get the nomination.

Marjorie West, daughter of North Pembroke mill owner, by her prompt action in getting number of thugs' auto and calling the State troopers led to the capture of three burglar suspects.

GIRL TRAPS 3 LOOTING FATHER'S MILL SAFE

The quick wit of pretty Marjorie West, daughter of Gilbert West, proprietor of a mill at North Pembroke, resulted in the capture of three alleged thugs, who, state police believe, may known something of the murder of Alfred N. Hollis, Quincy patrolman.

The men, who had cracked the safe in West's mill and robbed it of $250, according to the charges, were grilled for hours by the state police in the effort to link them with the death of the patrolman, slain in Quincy, last October.

The reason for believing in the possibility of some connection between the safe robbers and the mur-

GIRL PROSTRATED IN HUB BY HEAT; MERCURY HITS 81 AND IS CLIMBING UP

As Boston's April "heat wave" drove the official mercury dizzily to a new record for this date Miss Helen Wayland, 18, acquired the questionable distinction of being the year's first heat victim when she fainted at Summer and Washington sts.

She was given first aid treatment by a traffic policeman and sent to her home in Montgomery st., North Cambridge.

Not until tomorrow evening does the weather man predict [illegible] cooler weather.

Yesterday's record mark of [illegible] was in a fair way of being eclipsed before sunset as the little breeze stirring held steadily out of the south.

At 3 p. m. the temperature was 81 degrees in Boston.

At noon, the temperature at Revere Beach was 85 and the water [illegible] 23 degrees cooler. Yesterday's crowd figure of 7000 already had been equalled, the sands were dotted with loungers, one coaster service was running, mothers trundled baby carriages along the beach walk and mustard was being smeared on the "red hots."

$1000 REWARD IN CASE OF CARBARN ASSAULT

Middlesex County moved today to protect the sanctity of the Massachusetts courts.

The county, through Dist. Atty. Bushnell, offered $1000 reward for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the four men who assaulted Osborne R. Wingate, an important government witness at the trial of the "carbarn slayers."

The name of the informant will be kept secret if he desires, the district attorney promised.

Wingate, who is 26 and a resident of Waltham, was attacked and brutally beaten in Cambridge last night by four young men who struck him with a lead pipe.

The only known cause of the assault was the fact that Wingate, present during the Waltham carbarn

GIRL TRIES TO MURDER RUSSIAN AMBASSADOR

Warsaw, April 6 (INS)—An 18-year-old Russian girl, Salina Hoppen Waldentynowicz, forced her way into the Soviet embassy here and tried to assassinate the Russian ambassador, M. Bogomuloff.

The girl was a member of the Russian monarchist organization of Vilna.

Dressed in man's clothes, she concealed her identity from the servants of the embassy to gain admission to the ambassador's office.

Before she could fire a shot she was overpowered and her revolver taken from her.

18 BAY STATE TOWNS FIGHT FOREST FIRES

Forest fires in Greater Boston and other parts of the state, probably due in part to the intense heat, burned over miles of meadows and timberland today, causing thousands of dollars damage and in some cases seriously threatening dwelling houses.

Blazes were reported in Randolph, North Randolph, East Lexington, Winchester, Woburn and Worcester, all being under control except those in the Randolphs.

Firemen from five towns were fighting the fires in Randolph and North Randolph, the later having advanced over a distance of two miles with from 25 to 50 houses in its path. The fires started at noon, that in Randolph being located off North st. The firemen were forced to summon aid from Holbrook, Quincy, Braintree and Brockton.

The fire that swept over 1000 acres in Lexington, Winchester and Woburn was brought under control by firemen of eight towns aided by volunteers.

The blaze started in Great Meadows in East Lexington, on the Massachusetts ave. side, and with the wind behind it, raced across the

FORDS FACE CAMERA IN ENGLAND

Southampton, England, April 6 (AP)—Mr. and Mrs. Henry Ford were given an informal reception when they arrived today on the steamship Majestic.

The mayor of Southampton happened to be aboard to meet a Hungarian delegation and took the opportunity to welcome the American manufacturer and Mrs. Ford.

Mr. Ford consented to be photographed, but when camera men attempted to take a close-up his wife objected, saying: "We know what close-ups are and we don't like them."

Press interviewers were not fortunate when they endeavored to get Mr. Ford to answer a rapid fire of questions, although he did give a guarded opinion on the recent announcement of Premier Baldwin concerning the removal of rubber expert restrictions beginning November 1, 1928. Asked what he thought the effect of this would be on the American rubber industry, he answered:

"I would not express an opinion, but will say I think it is a move in the right direction."

Talking with a reporter for the Associated Press, Mr. Ford said:

"Although I have made no plans for my three weeks' visit to England, I shall certainly make some business inquiries. I have long thought that England was the best place from which to serve world trade, but the imposition of tariffs and other obstacles have made it difficult for me to put my opinions to the test so really I am over here to find out why these restrictions are imposed and whether there is any opportunity of overcoming them."

APPEARS AT DRAMATIC MOMENT IN COURT AS GRAND JURORS REPORT

After a special session, lasting only two hours, a Middlesex County Grand Jury today indicted Frederick [illegible] Knowlton of Framingham for first degree murder in the death of Marguerite Isabelle Stewart, Beverly teacher.

By chance, Knowlton was in the prisoner's cage in the courtroom when the Grand Jurors filed in and made their report to Judge Hugo A. Dubuque.

As a result, the reporting of the indictment, usually a mere formality, had much of the drama of the [illegible] of a murder trial.

Knowlton, who had been taken over from East Cambridge jail to be arraigned and who by accident had arrived in court ahead of the jurors, was then formally arraigned and remanded into the custody of the sheriff.

Though the indictment signalized the beginning of a battle for his own life, he left court chatting pleasantly with his guards.

"Knowlton maintains his complete innocence of this crime," his attorney, John F. [illegible] of Framingham, said later upon leaving East Cambridge jail where he had his first consultation alone with the defendant.

Relatives of the accused man will visit him tomorrow, the attorney said, explaining that he had made arrangements for this, but he could not say whether Knowlton's wife would be able to make the trip.

Only three witnesses were heard by the Grand Jury, these being State Detectives Edward F. O'Neil and Edward J. Sherlock, and se-

$25,000 SUIT AGAINST 'JIMMIE' GALLAGHER

In one of the most unusual damage suits ever brought in the Massachusetts courts, Jimmie Gallagher of "still hanging on" radio fame, and his orchestra assistant, C. Roy Carlson, were today jointly sued for $25,000 by an irate husband.

William F. Collins, an automobile salesman, charges the radio artists with unlawfully contributing to the intoxication of his wife, Catherine, on December 7, 1927. Because Collins claims this is a violation of a section of a United States law that gives the right to sue for damages caused by intoxicated persons he today filed his writ in Suffolk Superior Court.

In his declaration Collins alleges that Gallagher and Carlson, "contriving and wrongfully intending to injure the plaintiff, on or about December 7, 1927, did unlawfully procure or assist in the procuring of intoxicating liquor and did thereby cause or contribute to the intoxication of Mrs. Collins, the wife of the plaintiff."

Counsel for the husband is Edward Cook of Postoffice sq. building.

EMILY FULLER WINS IN FIGHT ON HARRIS WILL

Denial of a motion for jury trial in contest of the will of Charles S. Harris, Boston theater manager, was upheld today by a majority of the justices of the Supreme Court.

In his will Harris, connected with the Keith theatrical interests in Boston, left his entire estate to Emily Fuller, whom he had known as a young girl and who, in later years, was his constant companion.

George S. Harris, a brother of the testator, contested the will.

Judge Harris in Middlesex Probate Court refused to allow a motion to frame issues for a jury trial on the ground that the testator was of unsound mind and that the will was procured by fraud or undue influence on the part of Emily Fuller.

"The testator," said the Supreme Court, upholding the decision today, "continued in business for seven years after the date of the will and there is no positive statement that when he executed the will, which is simple in form, giving all his property to Emily Fuller, he did not possess sufficient mental capacity to understand what he was doing."

While the Hub again sizzled the entire Northwest was in the grip of below-freezing temperatures, and in Nebraska, Kansas and North Dakota it was snowing.

Undertaking Decided to Be a Business; Not a Profession

Undertaking is a business and not a profession and as a result William McManus, Brookline undertaker, was permanently enjoined from conducting his affairs at 26 Davis ave., because of zoning law violation.

This verdict was returned by the full bench of the Supreme Court today which affirmed a similar decree of the Superior Court.

Sometime ago McManus moved his establishment from Village sq. to a private residence in Davis ave. and was haled into Municipal Court following complaints of dwellers therein that it was a rupture of zoning laws. He was fined $10 on each of three counts and appealed, claiming his was a profession and not a business.

Nebraska Blizzard News Is Obtained by Radio

Omaha, Neb., April 6 (AP)—By Radio to Kansas City)—A heavy snow, which bore down telephone and telegraph wires and blocked street traffic, isolated Omaha from the outside world this morning.

With wires broken over a wide area, the Associated Press resorted to radio, dictating this dispatch from WOW, the Woodmen of the World station in Omaha, to WDAF, the Kansas City Star. This vicinity was the center of a storm that extended eastward into Iowa. Temperatures were a degree or two below freezing.

In Omaha street cars were delayed by snow on the tracks and scores of automobiles were stranded in deep drifts.

Trains were delayed, not so much by the snow as by the difficulty in dispatching orders by wire.

FIRE ESCAPE ROMEO IN COURT

Edward B. Hall, 22 and a former college student, sought to enter the Audubon rd. apartment of a girl friend via the roof and a fire escape —and ended up in Roxbury court today charged with breaking and entering.

Slightly abashed, perhaps, by having affairs of the heart aired in court, Ball told his story to Judge Palmer and found a sympathetic listener. The judge found him not guilty.

Hall said he went to Audubon rd., Back Bay, and, being unable to enter the apartment of a girl friend through the door, made his way to the roof and descended the fire-escape.

He hit the wrong apartment and opened a window and thrust his head into the apartment of Leon C. Roberts, who was in no mind to be disturbed, and who grabbed Hall and held him until the police arrived.

Judge Palmer admonished the young man against climbing about on roofs and fire-escapes and entering wrong apartments.

$15,000 BAIL RAISED TO $50,000 IN EPSTEIN CASE

He defaulted and search for him ended two days ago when he was found in Detroit.

Theodore went out soon after his mother and slammed the door of the third floor apartment at 243 Western ave., Cambridge. That left Theodore's brother, little Billy, two, all alone in the house.

When Mrs. Edes returned from the store Theodore was sitting calmly on the front steps, apparently deaf to the heart-broken wails of his locked-in brother above.

Mrs. Edes, in almost a frenzy, telephoned the fire department and the Ladder 3 boys went into a window and opened the door.

JEANNE EAGELS SUSPENDED

New York, April 6 (AP)—Jeanne Eagels was suspended today from membership in the Actors Equity Association until Sept. 1, 1929, because she prevented the opening of the play "Her Cardboard Lover" in St. Louis by failing to appear in her role as star.

Miss Eagels' explanation was that illness prevented her appearance.

Besides suspending Miss Eagles, the Equity council imposed a fine upon her equal to two weeks salary.

Hearing on the charges against her lasted two hours and was attended by 20 members of Equity Miss Eagels and several members of the "Her Cardboard Lover" company.

ARLINGTON MAN TO HOP WORLD

San Francisco, April 6 (AP)—The open season of transoceanic and world flights is here again.

Lieut. George R. Pond, U. S. N., of Arlington, Mass., who has announced plans for an attempt to fly around the world in 24 days in a giant monoplane, was at Modesto, Cal., today, going forward with his project.

Lieut. Bert Hall of Bowling Green, Ky., disclosed in New York last night that he would try a solo non-stop flight from Seattle to Tokyo—4300 miles—late this month or early in May. Lieut. Hall said if his transoceanic flight should be successful he would continue on around the world from Tokyo.

Although the details of Lieut. Pond's undertaking were not made public, it was understood Capt. Charles Kingsford-Smith, Australian flier, his partner in four attempts to break the world's endurance flight record here recently, probably would accompany him.

Pond expects to start from New York, flying to Europe, across Asia to Yokohama, thence to San Francisco and back to New York again.

If Lieut. Hall flies from Seattle to Japan he will find a pot of gold, $27,500 worth, at the end of the hop. This is in the form of a prize offered by the Seattle chapter of the National Aeronautic Association and the Imperial Japanese Aviation Society.

meadows, jumped Lowell st., and burned into the woods, crossing the line into Winchester and Woburn before being halted.

In many places the grass was long, burning like tinder, and at times the fire had a front of a mile. One garage was destroyed, another caught fire, and the Wheeler estate was threatened. Five hundred firemen and volunteers fought the blaze, including fire fighters from the departments of Lexington, Arlington, Belmont, Waltham, Woburn, Medford, Concord and Newton.

For a time houses on Lowell st. were threatened, but a shift in the wind sent the flames in another direction. The garage in the rear of 132 Lowell st., owned by Peter K. Pappas, was destroyed, together with a truck and automobile which it contained. A short time later the garage of Gilbert Harris on Pearl st. caught fire, but the blaze was extinguished by firemen.

Flames surrounded the Wheeler estate off Lowell st. and nearly consumed a piece of Lexington fire apparatus.

Brush and grass fires were also reported from Worcester County, the most serious damage taking place in Sutton, where a house, three barns and a number of small buildings were destroyed. Stanley Moore, a Sutton fireman, broke his leg when he jumped 25 feet from the roof of a house. The fire loss was estimated at $10,000.

Sixty acres of wood and pasture land was burned over in West Warren and grass and brush fires were reported from Shrewsbury, Fitchburg, Leominster, Marlboro and Hudson.

'LONE WOLF'S' DANCE HALL BRIDE IS GIVEN DIVORCE

Revival of Savage Era of 'Fatherless Babies' ∼ Urged by Unwed Mother ∼ Who Snaps Fingers at Tradition

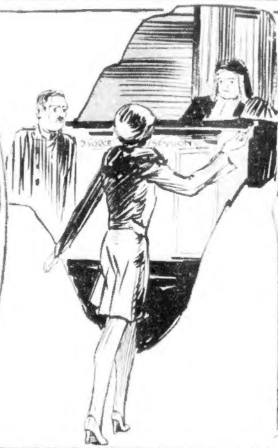
URGES ANCIENT CODE

Return to the "moral code" of the cavewoman is urged by Sylvia Pankhrust, noted English militant leader, who has just announced the birth of a son out of wedlock. She glories in the fact and says women should mate as they choose.

Miss Sylvia Pankhurst, who hotly defends her course in having a baby without the formality of marriage. She declared wedlock is degrading.

A "EUGENICS MAMA," TOO

Mrs. Grace Mailhouse Burnham of New York, one of the notable "Eugenics mothers" on this side of babies who do not know their fathers.



POOF! FOR YOUR LAWS!

Miss Pankhurst snaps her fingers at tradition and says there'd be no divorce if all girls did likewise. And of course there'd be no divorces—without marriage.

SHE ADVOCATED "FATHERLESS BABIES"

Isadora Duncan, the dancer, whose tragic death ended a tragic life, had three children out of wedlock. Two were drowned in the Seine in Paris when the auto in which they rode with a maid crashed into the stream, and the third died.

CUTS TIE TO MASTER THUG

Mrs. James E. Walters, bride of three months of the "Lone Wolf," now serving a life sentence in prison for his peculiar crimes in Boston, was today granted annullment of her marriage. They met in a Back Bay dance hall and after three weeks' wooing she married him. She stuck by him until he boasted in court of his crimes.

BRIDE DIVORCES JAILED 'LONE WOLF' THUG

The courts that placed James E. Walters, the "Lone Wolf," back of prison bars for the rest of his natural life, today freed his three-months' dance hall bride from the bonds that bound her to him in matrimony.

In Suffolk Probate Court, the South Boston girl who married the terror of Back Bay apartments after less than a month's courtship and who stood steadfastly by him until he finally was sentenced to State Prison, was granted an annulment of her marriage by Judge Joseph R. McCoole.

"WOLF'S CLAW MARK"

The annulment was on her own petition, in which he detailed that she was married on Jan. 17, 1925, as Miss Irene Allen. Previously she had declared she met the "Lone Wolf" in a Huntington ave. dance hall the previous December, under the name of Frank Stevens. The marriage was under his own name of Walters, however.

It was three months after the marriage that Walters was arrested in the South Boston home of his bride after weeks of hunting for the man who was terrorizing women and girls in their Back Bay apartments, sitting up and chatting with the girls for hours after he robbed the homes.

Excepting for a lone finger print, left on a ginger ale bottle in one of the Back Bay apartments he robbed, the "Lone Wolf" probably never would have been captured.

BOASTED OF HIS CRIMES

This finger print was carefully isolated by Inspector James B. Claflin, who then proceeded to conduct a careful check with army and navy records in Washington. Inspector Claflin acted on a supposition—based on the marauder's apparent age and his unquestioned physical fitness—that the "Lone Wolf" had

SHIELDS FATHER OF PANKHURST "LOVE CHILD"

London, April 6—All London seemed engulfed in the maelstrom of discussion of Miss Sylvia Pankhurst's proud statement that she was the mother of a child born out of "natural affection." She says she does not believe in the marriage contract.

"The Pankhurst love child" is the most absorbing topic over London's teacups today. No event in years has brought just the kind of reaction that Pankhurst's advertisement of the birth of her baby, last December 23, did. Its name is Richard Keir Pethick Pankhurst. London folk are eager to learn the identity of the father.

But at this point Miss Pankhurst, internationally famous for her militant suffragist work in days before the World War, holds her own secret.

"The father is a reticent man, retiring, and not given to publicity seeking," she said. "He is not an Englishman, I can say that. I have known him 10 years and love him. He does not care to efface my name, which would follow if we married.

"Our baby is born of our natural affection. That is the only way for children to be born—out of the natural affection of their parents."

Because under the English law an illegitimate child cannot succeed to the property of its parents if they die intestate, Miss Pankhurst took the precaution of making her will before the child was born, she announced.

In a statement Miss Pankhurst ridiculed the divorce laws.

COOLIDGE MAY ATTEND DEPEW FUNERAL

New York, April 6—Elaborate preparations are being made today for the funeral of Chauncey Mitchell Depew, distinguished statesman, financier and railroad executive who died at his home here early yesterday in his 94th year.

The funeral services will be held tomorrow morning at 10:30 o'clock at St. Thomas' Church, on Fifth ave. Burial will be tomorrow afternoon at Peekskill, N. Y., the birth place of Mr. Depew and the home of his youth.

COOLIDGE MAY ATTEND.

If his duties will permit President Coolidge hopes to come here from Washington for the funeral. Numerous notables throughout the East will attend the services. Messages of condolence from hundreds of others, who will be unable to be present, continued to reach Mrs. Depew at her home here today.

Fifty members of the Union League Club, including Elihu Root, will go to the church in a body. Mr. Depew was the third oldest member of the club in duration of membership.

Bishop William T. Manning, Bishop Ernest M. Stires and the Rev. Rolin H. Brooks will officiate at the religious rites at St. Thomas' Church tomorrow. The boy choir of the church will sing.

STATE FLAGS AT HALF-MAST.

The body will be taken to Peekskill by automobile. Motorcycle squads from New York City and towns in Westchester county will escort the funeral cortege, succeeding each other until the Hillside cemetery is reached.

By order of Governor Alfred E. Smith, the flags of New York state's public buildings were at half-mast today, as were the flags on all the buildings in 12 states of the New York Central Railroad. Mr. Depew had served the road for 62 years as counsel, president and chairman of the board. Depew's successor as chairman of the railroad board is expected to be chosen at the meeting of the directors next Wednesday.

Thrift is fashionable nowadays!

Misses' dresses at $10.75

for those who could afford to pay much more

Thrift used to be associated with calico and one dress that lasted for years. At any rate, one thing is sure—the woman who a few years back bought one gown at $50 or more now buys several at $20 or less! More changes, newer styles, a dress for each color costume, these are the results.

So, Filene $10.75 dresses. Not an effort to "cheapen." But an effort, by buying with our associated stores, to apply "bulk buying" to the rapid change in styles, to make them cost less and change oftener.

This week's styles feature fagoting, tie effects and bows—flat crepe in navy blue and high colors—sizes 14 to 20—$10.75.

JUROR LEAPS TO DEATH FROM JAIL WINDOW

Syracuse, April 6 (AP)—Marshall A. Bishop, 69, a juror in a murder case here, leaped to his death from a window at courthouse jail, where the jury had its headquarters. He had complained of nervous indigestion.

He had said the proceedings "made him nervous," and twice during the trial the court had been forced to declare a recess on his plea of illness.

He had asked to be relieved of service, but a physician declared Bishop was not ill, but merely overwrought.

WILKINS TO TRY ARCTIC HOP TODAY

Seward, Alaska, April 6 (AP)—Cloudy weather over the Arctic is keeping Capt. George H. Wilkins, Australian explorer, from starting his contemplated 2100-mile flight over the top of the world.

This was the substance of a message received here from Point Barrow, the most northerly tip of Alaska, from which Wilkins expects to make his flight to Spitzbergen in the Eastern Hemisphere.

Wilkins' radio call came through very faintly, and much of his message was lost. He said something about "tomorrow," which was interpreted to mean that he would again try to get away this morning, probably between 8 and 9 o'clock, Pacific time.

The United States signal service here announced it would work a continuous shift, listening for KDZ, Wilkins' call, on 33.1 meters, so that any word he sends out will not be lost.

The aviators are faced by none too favorable weather. Alaska was swept by a snowstorm yesterday, and latest advices from Oslo, Norway, were that conditions around Spitzbergen were bad.

Calvary Relic

TAKEN FROM CROSS

Rev. Father Cummins of Roslindale, who carried a holy relic, a bit of the true Cross, solemn token of the Crucifixion of Christ.

LEJEUNE IN U. S. DEFENSE STIRS 2D DIV. VETS

Maj.-Gen. John A. Lejeune, commandant of the Marine Corps, fresh from Nicaragua, was given a wildly enthusiastic reception at the Elks' Hotel by former members of the famous Second Division, which he commanded during the World War.

The occasion was the dinner of the Massachusetts Second Division Association, and running a close second to Gen. Lejeune in the enthusiasm of the welcome were Col. Hanford MacNider, recently resigned Assistant Secretary of War, and Maj.-Gen. Preston Brown, commanding the First Corps Area.

Capt. L. B. Rock, formerly of the Regular Army, and now an executive of the Hearst newspapers in Boston, spoke in behalf of Col. Frank Knox, publisher of the Boston Evening American and general manager of the Hearst papers, who was unable to be present.

DEFENDS U. S. POLICY

Gen. Lejeune denounced "insidious propaganda" in the United States against this country's intervention in Nicaragua.

"We did not go into that country for any sinister purpose," he said. "That is a propaganda lie. It is not a Wall st., war nor a capitalists' war.

"We want nothing in Nicaragua save order. We went in to protect the people from revolutionaries. We went in to protect American citizens and their business interests.

"Politics in Nicaragua leads to feuds. These feuds last for years. The country would have been devastated by revolution had we not stepped in. That was our duty. We had to do it. We've got to stay there until that duty has been accomplished."

Col. MacNider, who has just returned from Europe, was received as one of the boys of his former buddies. He was given an ovation as he rose to read portions of a German diary showing the German reactions to the American attack in Belleau Wood in July of 1918.

TRIBUTE TO BLIND VET.

He told of contacts with buddies which he made as assistant secretary of war, and touched with feeling on the presence of a blind and disabled veteran from Rhode Island who was led into the room. He disclaimed any intention of running for a high office as intimated in the introduction of the chairman, who said Mr. MacNider's name might appear on a national ballot.

Gen. Brown, who was chief of staff of the Second Division was unable to speak for several minutes because of the cheers which greeted him when he arose. He had with him five volumes containing Second Division data, compiled from original sources, much of it from combat and field orders by Capt. Mattsfeldp during the last four years. This material will be used by Gen. Brown in writing a history of the division, which has never had one. It will be unique in that the work will contain field orders and diaries of German divisions that opposed the Second in France.

After the speaking Gen. Lejeune, Gen. Brown and Col. MacNider were surrounded by former members of the division, and old battles were fought once more.

STORK HOVERS OVER CELL IN ATTLEBORO

Attleboro, April 6—The stork hovered today over a cell at police quarters.

Held in $2500 on a charge of receiving stolen property is Mrs. Mary Beaulieu, comely wife of Peter Beaulieu, 24, of this city, who was brought here from Springfield to face a charge of being an accomplice in an attempted local robbery.

THEN SECRET REVEALED

The arrest of the husband was followed by that of the wife. Then the husband whispered a secret into the ear of a policeman. The stork! So a police matron was informed, and headquarters says everything is in readiness for the event

Meanwhile, in the local court Beaulieu was held in $10,000 for a hearing tomorrow on a charge of being the confederate of Harry Brown, 24, captured in the act, police announced, of trying to break into a North Attleboro filling station last Tuesday night.

STRUCK POLICEMAN

Beaulieu admitted, police said, that he struck Patrolman Eugene Lacroix over the head with a broomstick. Lacroix was holding two men at bay with his revolver, when he was felled from behind.

The husband was accused also of receiving $5000 worth of stolen goods, found in his home.

Captured in Springfield with Beaulieu were his brother, Joseph, and Nelson Fortier. Joseph Beaulieu was fined $100 in the Springfield court for operating an auto not properly registered: and Fortier was sentenced to jail for having a revolver in his possession. They are later to be brought here for trial as alleged accomplices in the filling station attempt.

Cat Returns to Home After Absence of Six Months

South Woodbury, Vt., April 6—And the cat came back. The pet of Mrs. Daniel Brown was six months in proving the truth of the old adage that the cat always comes back but he finally made good. Last September the cat disapeared and Mrs. Brown had long since given up hope of ever seeing him again. But she heard a pitiful mewing outside her kitchen window and there was the cat, somewhat bedraggled, exhausted and very hungry, but glad to get home.

FEAR TRUSTY'S SON WAS STOLEN BY EX-CONVICTS

Los Angeles, April 6 (AP)—A man hunt was on today in California with a twofold object—the finding of nine-year-old Walter Collins and the whereabouts of a gang of eight ex-convicts from Folsom penitentiary.

Police think a possible prison feud may have resulted in the abduction of young Collins, to get revenge upon the boy's father, who has been a trusty at Folsom.

NAVY JAZZ CASE STARTS ROW IN ENGLAND

London, April 6 (AP)—The court martial growing out of the controversy over jazz music on the British battleship Royal Oak has deeply stirred public opinion and it was evident today the affair would not be allowed to end with the promulgation of the sentences.

Two of the officers involved, Commander H. M. Daniel and Capt. Kenneth G. B. Dewar were sentenced to dismissal from their ship and a severe reprimand. Rear-Admiral St. G. Goddard, criticism of whose actions brought the charges of conduct prejudicial to discipline, was not court-martialed, but was ordered by commander of the Mediterranean fleet to strike his flag.

The matter will be raised in the House of Commons when it reassembles on April 17 after the Easter vacation.

Public opinion seems to be on the side of the condemned officers who were popularly regarded as having suffered great provocation and made themselves champions of the oppressed—the admiral having a reputation as a martinet—at the risk of their own careers.

Apologists for Admiral Collard say that he suffered considerably by being ordered to haul down his flag and put on half-pay.

PLAN FOR DEFENSE AS GRAND JURY INDICTS PRISONER

geant Daniel Curtin of the Concord police. The indictment, swiftly following their testimony, came within a week of the murder of the girl.

The three police investigators did not tarry for the arraignment but left immediately after testifying on a search for a man who, authorities say, can corroborate the story of a Boston man who reported seeing Knowlton with a weeping girl in the vicinity of Concord late last Friday afternoon—close to the murder hour.

The fact that the murder indictment sets the crime as having taken place in Concord indicates that the police have information as yet undisclosed for they have professed ignorance of the location heretofore.

A careful and minute check-up on the movements of Knowlton and the girl beginning last Thursday afternoon, 24 hours before the murder, is being made by the three investigators and bit by bit they hope to fill the gaps in their information.

Search of camps on No-such Pond, Natick, was made today by Chief of Police Thomas P. Evans of that town, in the belief that the girl and her slayer may have been there, and in one cottage the chief found a girl's mirror and indications that the place had been broken into within a week or two.

These camps adjoin the burned cottages, the ruins of which were searched yesterday without result by State Police. Chief Evans questioned the various owners.

Regarding the Boston man who reported having seen a man answering Knowlton's description with a girl who was weeping and who resembled photographs of Miss Stewart, State Detective Sherlock said today:

NEW WITNESS SOUGHT

"Knowlton has been identified by a man who declares he saw him with a crying girl a comparatively short time before Marguerite Stewart died. We are now looking for another man who is known to have witnessed the same tableau."

The location of this scene was given as "the vicinity of Concord." The authorities denied a report that identification was made at the jail, but admitted it took place in Cambridge.

The wife and father of the accused are still loyal to him, according to their own declarations, but the former is so upset that she has been forced to leave Framingham for rest.

"I believe my son is innocent," said the father, Frederick Harold Knowlton of Framingham. "Nothing that I know of would convince me that he killed Miss Stewart. I cannot say more, for if anything more is said Attorney Driscoll is the man to talk. He is now at work getting information on certain phases of the case which he may give out later."

Although the murder indictment places the crime as having taken place at Concord, it is understood that the authorities have not been able as yet to fix the exact location and are combining their other activities with a search of side roads in the country part of that town for evidence of murder.

The Superior Court indictment disposed of the charge of murder placed against Knowlton in Concord District Court.

3 CAPTURED ON GIRL'S CLUE

derers, according to the state police, is the similarity of method used in cracking the safes in Pembroke and Quincy.

It is believed by police also that the trio were responsible for a safe-wrecking job in Giles' Garage at Plymouth a few hours before the Pembroke mill robbery.

In the Plymouth job, the robbers got only $25, however. Finger prints were being hunted on both the Plymouth and Pembroke safes today.

The West family was awakened by a telephone call from Albert Baker, a 15-year-old boy who lives directly across the street from the West Mill. He said that men were moving around with flashlights in the mill and that a car stood outside, with lights out and motor running.

Miss West drew an overcoat over her night clothing and ran to the mill only 100 yards away. After securing the number of the parked machine, she rushed back to her home. Then she called the State police barracks at Norwell and Deputy Sheriff John T. Osborne of Norwell.

On the state road, two miles from the barracks, Corporal Joseph Fratus and Trooper Michael Shea met Sheriff Osborne. They barricaded the road to Boston with their machines and lay in wait for the escaping thugs.

When a large sedan approached at a terrific speed, the officers leaped out into the road, with drawn guns and ordered the car to halt.

As it slowed down, Corporal Fratus advanced and smashed the glass with his revolver butt while the other officers leveled their guns at the men inside.

Hasty search of the pockets of these men, police claim, revealed not only $425 in cash but letterheads and valuable papers alleged to have been stolen from the mill safe. Three overcoats in the rear of the car held about $200 in coin and several watches.

The three men were taken to the Norwell barracks and booked on charges of breaking and entering in the night time and larceny.

They gave as their names: Thomas Brinola, London st., East Boston; Gabriel Polito, Havre st., East Boston, and Michael Garvey, Broadway, Somerville.

In Plymouth court the trio pleaded not guilty to breaking and entering and robbery charges, and, waiving examination, were held for the Grand Jury, Garvey in $15,000, and the other two in $10,000 each.

Search of the machine used by the men revealed a complete set of burglars' tools, and, in addition, a caulking iron such as shipwreckers use. The latter instrument is similar to the one found near the scene of the Quincy robbery, which Patrolman Hollis was attempting to prevent when he was slain.

OUST 2 POSTMASTERS AS "OFFICE BUYERS"

Washington, April 6 (AP)—Postmaster-General New today ordered the dismissal of Alvin L. Durrance and Leslie D. Roberts, postmasters at Frostproof and Avon Park, Fla.

New said he was advised Durrance declared he paid $500 to secure the recommendation for reappointment to his office, and Roberts had said he "was willing to pay for a recommendation."

"This positively will not be tolerated in this department," the Postmaster-General said.

been in the service seven years previous.

The police detective's "hunch" proved correct and the ginger ale bottle fingerprint was matched up with that of James E. Walters, former attendant in the naval hospital at Broklyn, N. Y., with a wartime address at 1738 West Leigh st., Richmond, Va.

More detective work traced Walters through various escapades, including a breaking and entering episode in a western city, to Boston—and finally the "Lone Wolf" was traced to the home of his bride in Wentell st., South Boston.

Not only did Walters admit to police that he was the "Lone Wolf," but he boasted in court that he was a super-criminal.

LOYAL UNTO END.

The astounded bride, although admitting that she had wondered at her husband's night absences from home, denied to policeand was believed—that she had any idea of Walters' actual "calling" or that she knew he was the much-hunted "Lone Wolf."

Nevertheless she remained loyal to him until his outbursts in court and the weight of testimony against him combined to send him to State Prison for life.

MRS. KNAPP IN COURT PLEADS NOT GUILTY

Albany, N. Y., April 6 (INS)—Mrs. Florence E. S. Knapp, former Secretary of the State and first woman elected to high office in New York State, pleaded not guilty today in Supreme Court to six indictments charging her with felonies and misdemeanors in her administration of the $1,200,000 census fund of 1925.

Ball on each of the six counts was fixed at $1,000. The date for the trial will be fixed at a court session at 10 a. m. next Wednesday. Mrs. Knapp's attorney, Robert P. Levis of New York city, sought more time before her second appearance, but the request was denied by Justice Callaghan. Levis explained he was acting as Mrs. Knapp's counsel temporarily.

The six indictments against Mrs. Knapp were handed up to Supreme Court Justice Stephen Callaghan by a special grand jury last night after that body had been in session less than six hours, and had deliberated only 70 minutes.

After handing up the indictments against Mrs. Knapp the grand jury recessed until next Tuesday morning. More indictments, involving other state employes who figured in the census scandal, are forecast.

One of the indictments charges Mrs. Knapp with grand larceny, while three others charge her with false audit of expense accounts and application of census funds.

The two indictments charging the former Secretary of State with misdemeanors allege that she assisted Miss Anna A. Little, formerly chief auditor and notary in the Secretary of State's office in making false certification of vouchers for trips she made to Springfield, Mass., and Cooperstown, N. Y., while the census was being taken.

Of the 24 witnesses heard by the grand jury it was understood that Mrs. Ninde and Miss Little gave the most damaging testimony against the former Secretary of State.

WRECK TIES UP B. & A. NEAR WESTFIELD

Westfield, April 6—Traffic in both directions on the main Boston & Albany line to Albany and the west was tied up today when 12 heavily loaded freight cars left the rails near Woronoco station. Non one was injured.

Three of the big box cars plunged down an embankment to the Westfield river, two of them being partly submerged, while the third remained on the bank.

East and west bound trains were held up at Pittsfield and Springfield and it was stated that some of them would be detoured over the Boston & Maine lines.

The train, a fast freight from the west bound for Boston, had reached a point a quarter of a mile from the Woronoco station, five miles west of here, when the cars left the rails.

The engine and caboose remained on the tracks, and nine of the derailed box cars stayed on the right of way. Rails and ties were torn up for a distance of 500 yards.

Eleven Years Ago United States Declared War

Just eleven years ago today—it was Good Friday, too, April 6, 1917—The United States declared war on Germany. After debate the war resolve had passed Congress at 3 a. m., and at 1:11 p. m., using a pen handed him by Mrs. Wilson, President Wilson signed the declaration of war.

Mobilization began at once. Even earlier government agents had begun seizing enemy ships in United States waters.

D.A.R. KLAN LINK DENOUNCED AS BASELESS

East Orange, N. J., April 6 (AP)—Mrs. William R. Becker, state regent of the Daughters of the American Revolution, characterized the charge of William Allen White, Emporia, Kan., editor and author, that there is a connection between the leadership of the D. A. R., and the Ku Klux Klan as "preposterous, far-fetched and utterly without foundation, so far as I know."

"The Daughters of the American Revolution have been organized about 37 years," she said, "and I have never heard of its harboring any prejudice against any individual who wished to join regardless of her creed. As long as she could show that one of her ancestors fought in the revolution, she was eligible."

'GOOD FRIDAY' OBSERVED IN CHURCHES

Though there is no actual celebration of the mass in Roman Catholic churches today, there is a celebration of the Mass of the Presanctified and Cardinal O'Connell is expected to pontificate at this ceremony at the Cathedral of the Holy Cross.

Tonight at 7:45 the service of adoration of the cross will be held in all Catholic churches of Greater Boston.

The warm weather of yesterday enabled many invalids and aged folk to join in the Holy Thursday custom of visiting seven churches. Thousands began their pilgrimage by attending the morning solemn high mass at the cathedral with the cardinal pontificating.

Following the celebration of the mass, Cardinal O'Connell placed the consecrated eucharist in the repository on the altar of repose, in the chapel of the Blessed Sacrament. Next followed the blessing of the holy oils by the cardinal.

The Cathedral of the Holy Cross was again crowded last evening for the chanting of the solemn office of the Tenebrae. Cardinal O'Connell presided. The chanting was by 100 seminarians from St. John's Seminary, in charge of the Rev. Dr. Joseph A. Murphy. The Tenebrae will also be chanted this evening in the cathedral.

FOUR EASTER SERVICES AT TRINITY TODAY

There were scheduled four services today in Trinity Church, Copley sq. The first was a brief service of morning prayer and sermon by the Rev. Gardiner M. Day, preacher to the evening congregation. The second was a three-hour service beginning at 12 noon, conducted by the Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, rector. This service will be conducted in 25-minute periods.

At 5:15, the Rev. Dr. William E. Gardner, former rector of the Church of the Messiah, will conduct a service of evening prayer and deliver an address on "Sacrifice, the Mark of Personality."

In the evening at 8 o'clock the Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, rector, will hold a service of spiritual preparation for the Easter communion.

FULLER SUNDAY SPORTS VIEWS HIT BY ADAMS

A caustic verbal attack on Governor Fuller for his stand against professional sports on Sunday was made today by Charles F. Adams, hockey and baseball magnate and active advocate of Sunday sports.

The Governor announced his opposition in connection with his veto of a bill permitting Sunday sales and deliveries of foodstuffs under certain circumstances, declaring he saw an entering wedge for a seven-day working week, while he himself favored a five-day week.

"I am disappointed in Governor Fuller's sense of fair play," asserted Adams. "I believed him to be too sportsmanlike to strike at an opponent who had already been knocked out—worse yet, go out of his way to do so.

"The expressions he used are practically verbatim with the platitudes printed in the Lord's Day League pamphlets and the statements of their lobbyists at the hearing before the committee on legal affairs.

"The Governor's success as a business man and his wealth have been obtained largely by sale of bicycles and automobiles, which are so largely used for the Sunday recreation and amusement of the masses and for which gas stations, garages and accessories stores are permitted to commercialize the Sabbath.

"Commercializing of the Sabbath in respect to recreation and amusements is not an entering wedge for a 7-day working week but rather is employment given by the few so that the many can observe in comfortable and respectable ways their recreative opportunities.

"'I do not choose' to suggest that Governor Fuller's statements were for 'political expediency.' It might appear so, however, to the observant reader. Personally I would rather see the sunshine and happiness on the faces of attendants at a Sunday afternoon ball game than the grime of the highway and the strained expression of doubt or fear which is so apparent on most of the faces of the Sunday afternoon automobilists."

MISSING BRIDE IS SOUGHT IN REVERE

A heartbroken husband today appealed to the Revere police to find his bride of but a few months who left their home in Patriot Parkway, Revere, on Monday and since then has not been seen.

Mrs. Theresa Baldinelli, 26, had $40 in her pocketbook when she left home, the husband told the police, presumably to pay a furniture bill. He is sure she is being kept from her home "against her wishes."

Several people, known to have received mysterious telephone messages as to the whereabouts of the attractive bride, are to be questioned by the Revere police today. The husband, Louis Baldinelli, described his wife as 5 feet tall and weighing 110 pounds. She wore a brown coat and light colored hat. She is of dark complexion.

AUTO CRUSHES BABY TO DEATH IN CARRIAGE

New York, April 6 (AP)—A young mother attracted by a crowd of nursemaids and children on Riverside Drive today investigated only to discover her own eight months' old son dead in his crushed baby carriage at the center of the throng.

The accident was the second on the drive in 24 hours in which a baby carriage was run down by an automobile and excitement ran so high among hundreds of nursemaids and children who crowded the sunny promenade that police reserves were called out to restore order.

The baby killed was Lawrence Rodwin, son of an attorney. His nurse, Mollie Muphy, started to push the carriage across the street just as a taxi driven by Harold Balterman bore down.

ADD $400,000 TO N. H. 1928 ROAD PROGRAM

Concord, N. H., April 6 (AP)—Governor Spaulding and council with the approval of the State Highway Department toady increased the state's $1,000,000 program of permanent road building in New Hampshire by adding seven new projects involving an expenditure of approximately $400,000.

HINTS DOLLY SISTER WON'T PROFIT BY PEER'S DEATH

New York, April 6 (AP)—The body of Sir Mortimer Davis, Canadian financier who died in France, arrived on the Mauretania today for interment at Montreal. Lady Davis and A. C. Hersey, business associate of Sir Mortimer, were passengers on the ship. Told by reporters that Roszika Dolly of the theatrical Dolly Sisters, who recently married Sir Mortimer's son, had expressed the opinion that her husband would share in the financier's estate, Mr. Hersey replied: "She is entitled to think what she likes; her thoughts are her own."

FORMER YALE BASEBALL STAR DIES BY GAS

Washington, April 6 (AP)—Edgar M. Atkins, a former New York attorney, was found dead in a rooming house here today with a gas jet in his room fully open. Atkins was said to have been a pitcher of the Yale baseball team on which former Senator Wadsworth of New York played first base. He had worked here in government departments but friends said that he had not been regularly employed in recent years. His widow lives in Stamford, Ct.

REAR ADMIRAL OLIVER DIES AT VIRGINIA HOME

Richmond, Va., April 6 (AP)—Rear-Admiral James Harrison Oliver, retired, first governor of the Virgin Islands and member of the naval board of strategy during the World War, died today at Shirley, his historic estate on the James river.

Death was attributed to heart disease.

19 U. S. SAILORS HURT FIGHTING HAVANA FIRE

Havana, April 6 (INS)—The fire which swept the three refining plants of the Standard Oil Company on the outskirts of Regla was controlled today after it has caused $3,000,000 damage. The fire is believed to have been of incendiary origin.

United States sailors from the Battleship Wyoming helped the firemen to prevent the flames from spreading into the town. Nineteen sailors were overcome by fumes.

Forty-one residents of the fire zone were injured, including one woman.

The fire was still burning this morning, but had been localized. Soldiers and police were guarding the district.

Eleven petroleum and gasoline storage tanks were destroyed.

For a time it looked as though the flames would spread to ships anchored in the eastern part of Havana harbor, and they were removed from their moorings.

When the fire was at its height, the great $15,000,000 plant was a blazing inferno, the glare being visible for nearly 20 miles.

Residents of the neighborhood fled from their homes in panic as the tanks began to explode. The panic-stricken people fled to the water side, where they were taken aboard boats. Owing to the vast clouds of dense black smoke which billowed upward from the blazing tanks ships turned their searchlights upon the shore to aid the rescue work.

550 SINCLAIR JURORS UNDER PROBE BY U. S.

Washington, April 6 (INS)—Federal agents and private detectives today were completing an exhaustive inquiry into the private lives of the 550 men and women from among whom the jury will be selected to try Harry F. Sinclair, millionaire oil magnate and sportsman, next Monday for criminal conspiracy to defraud the government of the Teapot Dome Naval Oil Reserve.

This investigation had to do with the nature of employment of each of the veniremen and their families; their religious beliefs and fraternal affiliations; whether or not they own oil stock; their general reputations, and a score of other points.

The government's investigation is being conducted through inquiry of the employers of the jury panel.

The defense methods are not known, but it is understood the work is being done either by one of the many private detectives who serve local lawyers or by a credit agency.

There will be great difficulty in picking twelve men and women for Monday's trial. As a result of last October's mistrial, it is common knowledge among the veniremen that this jury will be locked up for the duration of the trial, approximately a month. Most of them are expected to tell the court they have formed an opinion in the case which would disqualify them from sitting.

Easter Styles Will Win a Balmy Grin From Old Sol

Washington, April 6 (AP)—An Easter Sunday with sunny skies over virtually the entire country was promised today by the Weather Bureau with the reservation that the present stagnation" period in the Atlantic States might end Saturday night.

SAFES LOOTED OF $1000

Cash amounting to $1000 and valuable papers were obtained from two safes in the office of the Trimount Bottling Company, 94 Spring st., Everett, by professional safe workers, it was discovered today.

The robbers entered the plant by breaking a window, and then forced the office door. They started to drill the safes with the intention of blowing them, police say, but changed their minds and used a sledge on the combinations. Desks were forced open, but as far as could be learned nothing was taken except the contents of the safes. The robbery was discovered by Nene Perluso, president of the company.

SLEW OVER DOG; GETS 25 YEARS

Dover, N. H., April 6—George H. Condon, who shot a dog and then killed its master in a quarrel over the first shooting, was sentenced to from 25 to 30 years in prison today.

Condon, a Kittery, Me., coast guardsman, appeared before Chief Justice William H. Sawyer and changed his plea of not guilty to guilty of murder in the second degree. Condon shot William H. Thurston, young New Durham farmer, on March 11, when Thurston remonstrated with him for the alleged cold-blooded slaying of his dog.

ANOTHER MORGAN'S INNOVATION

STEAL 'ALKY' IN STATE ST.

While the watchman of a neighboring building looked on in belief that the activity was right and regular, three men, early today, stole 3175 gallons of alcohol, 175 gallons of the lot being pure grain, from the Sales Promotion Service Co., 234-238 State st.

The 3000 gallons of denatured alcohol were in 60 drums of 50 gallons each.

Police investigation disclosed that the alcohol thieves jimmied their way into the building from the Common st. side and then backed up their truck.

35,000 GUARDS WILL SERVE AT CHICAGO POLLS

Chicago, April 6—While many candidates were taking to the "tall timber" to keep from being kidnaped, and others were outlining their final smashing drives, Chicago today entered the home stretch of the most turbulent and bitterly contested primary election campaign in its history.

Bombings, murders, and the general reign of terror, have made it an event of world interest. Chicago itself has a bad case of "nerves."

Tuesday—four days hence—thousands of Chicagoans will smother their uneasy feelings under a spirit of civic duty and trek to the polls, along with their down-state fellow citizens, all hoping for a peaceful settlement of the deadly Republican feud.

Thirty-five thousand men, 5000 of them armed police officers, will stand guard over the polling places in Chicago. This huge army will be the largest ever employed here for a similar service. The police are to guard against violence, the others to act as observers and challengers—the watchdogs against fraud.

Details of guarding the polls were worked out at a conference between Police Commissioner Michael Hughes and County Judge Edmund Jarecki. Many of the volunteers for poll service were recruited from Chicago civic organizations.

GOFF'S ENTRY SEVENTH FOR PRESIDENCY

Washington, April 6 (AP)—The colors of the seventh senatorial candidate for the Republican presidential nomination were flying today with the entry of Guy D. Goff, junior senator from West Virginia, in the primary in that State, May 29, when 19 delegates to the Kansas City convention will be selected.

Thus, the former assistant attorney-general places his name alongside Curtis of Kansas; Watson of Indiana; Norris of Nebraska; Reed of Missouri; Walsh of Montana, and George of Georgia, the latter three Democrats, in the senatorial lists for the nomination. Had he lived, Willis, Republican, Ohio, would have made eight.

While Hoover supporters have indicated the secretary would wait until the Ohio primary, April 24, is over before deciding whether to enter West Virginia, political observers believe he will forego the latter opportunity because of his reluctance to contest "favorite son" votes.

Lowden also is considered a possible entry in West Virginia.

The fight for West Virginia's 16 Democratic delegates also is expected to crustallize soon. Although it is not considered likely here that Governor Smith will enter the primary lists, efforts have been made to obtain this support for him. Senator Reed is a more likely prospect to place his name there. He expects to make three speeches later in the month in the State.

On the basis of delegates actually selected thus far, the Hoover-Lowden line-up follows:

Lowden, instructed—Iowa, 17; Misouri, 8; Minnesota, 19; North Dakota, 13; North Carolina, 1; total, 58.

Uninstructed but claimed for Lowden—Iowa, 10; Minnesota, 2; Missouri, 17; South Carolina, 11; total, 40.

Hoover instructed and claimed—Georgia, 16 (if Coolidge cannot be drafted); Louisiana, 10 (contest pending); Minnesota, 2; Kentucky, 29; total, 57. Pledged to Hoover: New Hampshire, 11; total 125.

Uninstructed but claimed for Hoover—Iowa, 2; Maine, 15; Missouri, 8; Minnesota, 4; New York, 2; Virginia, 15; total, 46.

FIVE ALIENS SEIZED IN SMUGGLING PLOT

New York, April 6 (INS)—An alleged attempt to smuggle five aliens into the country was frustrated early today by police of the marine division after a lively chase during which several shots were fired.

Police discovered a black launch, running without lights, in the East river. When they approached it the launch picked up speed and darted towards open sea. When they overtook the launch police found the five aliens who claim they stowed away aboard a ship at a South American port.

MORROW HAS SECRET PARLEY WITH CALLES

Vera Cruz, Mexico, April 6 (AP)—Dwight W. Morrow, American ambassador to Mexico, had returned to Mexico City today after an unexpected visit with President Calles who is spending some time here.

Ambassador Morrow came from Mexico City for a conference with the President and started back for Mexico City last night. Strict silence was kept regarding the matters discussed.

TURN DOWN REUNION OF REBEL AND UNION VETS

Washington, April 6 (AP)—A joint reunion in Washington of Confederate and Union veterans of the war between the states, proposed in the Howard bill, was turned down today by a House judiciary subcommittee. Chairman Hersey of the subcommittee said that sentiment was found to be generally opposed to the reunion.

Cop's Fancy Turns to High School Girls; Spring Has Come

Worcester, April 6—Spring has come into the heart of a young Worcester patrolman—if complaints of neighbors are true—and his superiors are going to see all about it today.

That is, if they can find the patrolman.

According to complaints received by neighbors, a man in policeman's uniform has been holding nightly rendezvous with high school girls back of the Downing Street School But when Sergt. Thomas J. Prescott, in answer to a quick call from a neighbor stating that the policeman and two girls were in back of the school, raced to the spot he found two girls but no policeman or any man at all.

So you see——!

EARTH CRACKS OPEN NEAR SEVEN DEVILS MOUNTAIN

Grangeville, Ida., April 6 (AP)—An opening in the earth, three miles long and "wide enough for a team to drive through," has been reported by D. A. Hardin, of Whitebird, Ida., 20 miles from here. Hardin said the fissure extends on both sides of the foothills of the Seven Devils range, almost in a straight line, extending to the Salmon river near the hamlet of Lucille, a strong odor of gas emanates from the split, Hardin said.

HUB FOLK SAIL FOR EUROPE TOMORROW, SAYS BETTY ALDEN

The T. Morris Murrays, Inveterate Globe Trotters, Sense the Wanderlust in the Spring Air; Depart on Ile de France

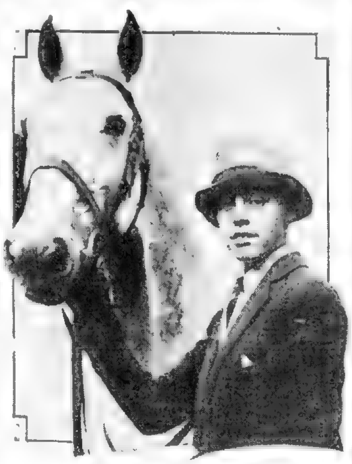
SPRING COMES, AND WITH IT THE CALL OF THE WANDERLUST, TO WHICH SOME may harken and some may not. To the ordinary mortal held to daily tasks the itinerant Bostonian, with [illegible] transatlantic [illegible] appears of a world apart. The itinerant ones, cosmopolitan in all [illegible] go and come with [illegible] nonchalance. Dr. and Mrs. T. Morris Murray are in that set. Legally, it might be said, they are Bostonians. In reality they belong to the wide, wide world and have visited many of its corners, while knowing intimately its capitals and its spas.

DR. AND MRS. MURRAY ARE making a brief stay in New York at the Ritz, just prior to setting away again to the Old World, where so much of their time is spent. Tomorrow from that palatially modern steamship, the Ile de France, they see New York's famous skyline recede into its native smoky indistinctness as the liner steams outward. The same liner on its most recent Havre-New York crossing brought back home an interesting though not overly large contingent of the itinerant set that lives in Boston when at home, which is not often.

MR. AND MRS. WILLIAM YORKE PETERS of Bay State [illegible] are incoming on the [illegible] steamship, and with them is Mrs. Henry [illegible] Nichols. Youthful Louisburg Square people putting [illegible] finishing touches on [illegible] come home via the Ile de France also. Miss Katharine M. Quinn at [illegible] Quinn, son and daughter of [illegible] Quinn of No. 22 in the artistic [illegible] section, have been getting some [illegible] culture of the brand famous at Lausanne in Switzerland.

REGINALD BIRD COMES BACK FROM THE SOUTH TO FIND PLANS FOR THE NEW RIDING CLUB shows perfected [illegible] and [illegible] smoothly and with dispatch toward the [illegible] April 20 and 21. Until the bugle blows and the shows are actually on the Riding Club ring will [illegible] busy [illegible] the way of preliminaries of schooling and jumping [illegible] certain hours each day being [illegible] purposes. Certainly Mr. Bird is a [illegible] these days with all [illegible] day Riding Club affair to be arranged and his [illegible] show coming early in June, on the [illegible]

IN TRUTH THE HORSE LOVING ELEMENT OF SOCIETY AND THAT IS A LARGE PORTION thereof has some brilliant sports affairs in prospect. The Metropolitan show comes but [illegible] the new Riding Club events. The [illegible] Mr. Bird's [illegible] show [illegible] the [illegible] horses [illegible] Waverly farm at Framingham. The Country Club [illegible] on June 16 and 18 [illegible] June 29 allow but a short interval for society [illegible] from the excitement of [illegible] them.



MISS BETTY CARRET

Hub girl is a guest in England of Major and Mrs. Guy Lee, near Aldershot. An enthusiastic and accomplished horsewoman, Miss Carret, of course, saw the recent running of the Grand National at Aintree.

EVERY BRIDE-TO-BE IS NOT so [illegible] nuptial tribulations as is Miss [illegible] [illegible] of the [illegible] [illegible] though [illegible] [illegible] were, break [illegible] the [illegible] so with the daughter of Francis Lee Higginson [illegible] along with [illegible] imbibed [illegible] business [illegible] Miss Higginson did a [illegible] of her trousseau shopping as long ago as last autumn when she was abroad for that special purpose. So the weeks and months preceding the nuptial day are moving along with scarcely any hectic flurry.

THE FORMER MISS ELSIE BANCROFT, now Mrs. [illegible] Aeschelman, [illegible] the [illegible] one of her former tennis triumphs [illegible] compete in the recent Longwood tournament [illegible] she took ship and sailed away [illegible] France. She with Mr. Aeschelman and the very small daughter were passengers aboard the Rochambeau going home to Cannes. During their visit here, which mainly had to do with the national tennis tournament on the Longwood covered courts, the tennis star stayed at the Bancroft estate in Brookline.

Movie Used in Hub Way of the Cross Service

In a motion picture theater with the stations flashed in rotation on the screen by a stereopticon machine, the parishioners of the parish of the Holy Name, West Roxbury, observed today the Good Friday services of the Way of the Cross.

Set apart only a few months ago, the parish has no church as yet and masses are said each day in the Bellevue Community Theater, Belgrade ave.

The Rev. William P. McNamara, pastor, formerly of St. Thomas Church, Jamaica Plain, was a bit perplexed at first as to how he could enable his parishioners to take part in the usual afternoon services of the Way of the Cross, for the theater, of course, is not equipped with stations.

Then he conceived the idea of having each station thrown on the theater screen.

Musical Director Kills Self as Success Comes

New York, April 6 (INS)—Success was just around the corner for Perke Hamburg, but just around the corner was too far away to answer the immediate financial needs of the brilliant musical director. He killed himself with a dueling pistol in a hotel here early today.

Hotel officials said Hamburg had been unable to pay when asked for an advance payment on his suite of rooms. But in a few short weeks he was to have received $1000 in cash and $500 a week as musical director of a forthcoming theatrical production, according to a contract found in his pocket. A theatrical producer had signed the contract.

Hamburg, a widely known Greenwich Village character, was the moving spirit in the recent renaissance of Gilbert and Sullivan operettas on the New York stage. During the coming season he was to have been associated with David Belasco, whom he had called his "old maestro." He was 35 years old.

Here's Prize Foolish Questions Letter

Many strange requests reach the desks of state officials but a letter from Groton to H[illegible] Lythgoe of the food and drug division of the department of health is regarded as the prize specimen.

Here is the letter:

"I have been referred to you by the department of [illegible] concerning certain menu [illegible] I would appreciate it very much if you would [illegible] the following:

"The best tooth wash.

"The best tooth [illegible].

"The best shaving soap and cream.

"The best after shaving application.

"The best treatment for hair that contains much [illegible].

"The best throat gargle.

"P.S. What make of watch would you buy for a graduation present around $50?"

Lythgoe made this reply:

"[illegible] I am unable to furnish [illegible] You will find [illegible] in general [illegible] and in accordance with [illegible] of law. I would suggest, however, that in my opinion the [illegible] after shaving application is water, either hot or cold as [illegible] fancy."

EUROPE WOULD ELECT DAWES AS PRESIDENT!

New York, April 6 (INS)—If European opinion had its way, Vice-President Charles G. Dawes would win the Republican nomination for president. This is the news brought back by former U. S. Senator J. Hamilton Lewis of Illinois, who returned today on the Roma. Lewis declared France and Germany are watching the American political situation with keen interest. Dawes is a favorite, he said, because of a belief he would aid readjustment of the reparations agreements.

BISBARRED LAWYER HELD ON CHARGE OF LARCENY

Springfield, April 6 (AP)—Scott Adams, disbarred by Judge H. T. Lummus of Superior court in February was arraigned in district court today on a charge of larceny of nearly $300, the complainant being Mrs. Mary J. Stevenson of Clinton, Ct. A plea of not guilty was entered and the case was continued.

The disbarment proceedings resulted from the complaint of Mrs. Lucy M. Carey, executrix of an estate, who alleged that Adams failed to turn over the proceeds of a law suit he settled.

Don't Have Dark, Rough, Red, Chapped Or Sallow Skin

Women who neglect their skin or through lack of proper understanding of its care, at the early stages of their youth slip from them, are more to be pitied than censured. U. S. STARTS BIG CANCER DRIVE MONDAY

Washington, April 6 (A.P.)—The [illegible] guard of an army of medical specialists, surgeons and technical men soon to be mobilized by the United States Government for an attack on cancer will meet in Washington next Monday in response to a call from Surgeon General Hugh S. Cumming.

The purpose of the campaign as outlined today by the surgeon general, who heads the public health service, is to coordinate the activities of the skilled workers now engaged in research seeking the cause and control of cancer, whether in universities, hospitals, independent foundations or private laboratories.

ALL EXPERTS.

The group summoned here for the preliminary meeting, all prominent and known for their work in the field of cancer research, is made up of Dr. Joseph C. Bloodgood, associate professor of clinical surgery at Johns Hopkins medical school; Dr. Warren Lewis, department of embryology, Carnegie Institution of Washington; Dr. Treat B. Johnson, professor of chemistry at the Sterling laboratory, New Haven, Ct.; Dr. Reid Hunt, professor of pharmacology, Harvard medical school; Prof. James Ewing, Cornell University Medical College; Dr. W. D. C[illegible], assistant director of the [illegible]; [illegible] General [illegible]; Dr. W. H. Howell, director of the School of Hygiene and Public Health, Johns Hopkins University, and Dr. W. W. Coblentz, physicist of the bureau of standards.

APPORTION WORK

The medical branch of the government [illegible] long contemplated the [illegible] of apportioning the work to be done in an attempt to find the cause and [illegible] the disease, Dr. Cumming said, believing that progress [illegible] result at a great saving of time and money.

"Many are now working on theories that have been demonstrated by others to be untenable and we can [illegible] a very considerable amount of this duplicated effort by having a central organization keep in touch with all the cancer workers."

To Build Girls' Dormitory

Burlington, Vt., April 6—Announcement was made here that preliminary work on the new Slade Cottage dormitory for women of the University of Vermont will begin soon. The dormitory, which is to be of white Colonial design, with accommodations for 26 girls, will cost $50,000 to erect.

KAHN BREAKS RAIL MERGER DEADLOCK

New York, April 6 (I.N.S.)—Regrouping into a four-trunk line system of railroads valued from $[illegible] to $[illegible] and operating more than [illegible] miles of trackage, was reported today to have been agreed upon by powerful railroad executives after a series of meetings held behind closed doors in this city.

The agreement was reached only after a threatened break between L. F. Loree, sponsor of a fifth trunk line [illegible] east and west, and the [illegible] of [illegible] who favored the four-trunk system. The break was averted by Otto H. Kahn, a member of Kuhn, Loeb & Co., bankers for Loree and his proposed system. Under the plan, it is understood Loree's Delaware & Hudson is assured of access to the west.

MUST BE APPROVED

The Interstate Commerce Commission must pass on the final plans and the hearings probably would require six months. The minority stockholders must be given opportunity to raise objections to the merger, if they have any to make, and the interests of individuals and communities must be given consideration.

Loree's fifth trunk line plan was discussed at a meeting on Wednesday with the Pennsylvania [illegible] with a view to support [illegible] Pennsylvania, however, does not support the four-trunk system, which eventually [illegible] to Loree.

In Wall street it was generally believed that Loree's Lehigh Valley holdings probably had been traded to the Pennsylvania [illegible] important part in the new alignment.

B. & O. TO GET WABASH.

The Wabash railway, which runs from Buffalo to Chicago and western points and in which Loree has large holdings, is to be shared with the Baltimore & Ohio, which has desired it [illegible]. The New York Central had been reported as due to receive the Delaware, Lackawanna & Western.

Among those present at the deliberations this week were President Atterbury of the Pennsylvania, Loree, P. E. Crowley, president of the New York Central; Daniel Willard, president of the Baltimore & Ohio; [illegible] Bernet, president of the Erie; O. P. and M. J. Van Sweringen of the Nickel Plate; A. J. County, [illegible] vice president of the Pennsylvania, and George V. Shriver, senior vice president of the Baltimore & Ohio.

3 HELD BY LYNN COURT IN ZIGZAG AUTO CASE

Zigzagging in an auto brought two men into Lynn court today, and when the owner of the car appeared in court to see how his friends came out, he was arrested on a charge of allowing an improper person to operate his motor vehicle. John Groody of Hotel Statler, Boston, was arrested in the car on a charge of drunkenness. Walter Wil[illegible] of Ester pl., Lynn, was charged with operating an automobile while under the influence of liquor. Fraser C. Bonnell of Harvard University, owner of the car, walked into court and when his presence became known he was placed under arrest. All three cases were continued to Friday, April 13.

BOY HITS DYNAMITE CARTRIDGE WITH AXE

Rochester, N. H., April 6—Albert Hayes, 14, started out to investigate his new surroundings on the farm of Victor Caverly in the Strafford Centre section where he had recently moved with his mother who last week married Caverly.

On a shelf he found a dynamite cartridge which he placed on a chopping block and struck with an axe. The explosion that followed shattered the block and drove large pieces of wood into the boy's arms, face and shoulders, injuring him.

LENARD WANTS TO FIGHT FULLER

Pointing out his record [illegible] Henri Lenard [illegible] weights—as proof of his contention Leo Fornaciari, the Chicago manager, declares that Lenard is entitled to a battle with Bud Taylor, holder of the world's bantamweight title.

"This boy's fistic record surely entitles him to a fight with Taylor for the bantamweight championship," said Fornaciari, "but meanwhile on his behalf I am issuing a challenge to any fighter of from 118 to 1[illegible] pounds. I would like to see him matched against Sammy Fuller of Boston, for example.

"[illegible] who feel like accepting this challenge, however, I must point out that Lenard is a [illegible] hitting [illegible] who defeated a number of boxers who have beaten Taylor. Among these were Mickey [illegible] Tommy Ryan in his prime—[illegible] Rosey Stoy and Young Montreal.

"Lenard [illegible] the European [illegible] by getting the decision over Andre Routis. He also [illegible] such fancy hitters as Joe Singer, who won from Taylor a few weeks ago—Pico Raines, George Siddons and Howard Mayberry.

California Bids for National Golf Play

By MIRIAM BURNS HORN
Women's National Golf Champion

THERE is considerable talk out in California of bringing both the men's and the women's national tournament to Del Monte in the year of 1929.

Pebble Beach has been awarded the men's affair. The course is already under construction with $30,000 being spent in improvements. Pebble Beach is being lengthened several hundred yards, new tees and greens being built, and many new traps added in order to make it even a more difficult test of golf than it now is—a real championship layout.

THE hope is then to have the women's tournament at approximately the same time, either the week before or following the men's, the location for it being the Monterey Peninsula Country Club.

Having played considerable golf there I am well qualified to speak for the merits of the course. In my [illegible] it would be a splendid [illegible] women's tournament. At present it is rather simple. There [illegible] improvements necessary to perfect it, but then the course would [illegible].

The Country Club is primarily a woman's course. I mean by that it is a two shot course for the feminine golfers, two shots being required to reach most of the holes. With more bunkers through the fairways to catch the poor drives, and a few more around the greens, it would also be a real test of championship golf.

THE first nine holes is laid out in the woods, the fairways having been hewn out of enormous pine trees. The setting is gorgeous. The second nine borders the ocean most of the way until the last two holes which return again into the pines to the clubhouse.

Most of the holes are between 350 and 400 yards and demand two perfect shots. There is a reward to the accurate hitter which longer holes lose for a woman. Anything around 400 yards usually means three shots, anyhow, and a bad second is of little consequence.

Very little improvement could be made on the greens, they are so perfect. The fairways are hard and sandy and call for extremely true second shots.

The traps are filled with white beach sand, and are neither easy to escape nor to play out of. There are three short holes anything but simple pars. One is 135 yards onto an [illegible] green. The other two 160 and 170 yards are on the ocean front. With the winds off the water they require great skill and headwork.

THE course presents many various problems. There is everything to be desired of a championship course [illegible] hazards [illegible] eighteen [illegible] rewarded [illegible].

I think the Monterey Peninsula course a splendid site for the 1929 women's [illegible]. Having both tournaments together should prove very interesting. [illegible] the opportunity to witness the play of both men's and women's championships.

50 HARVARD MEN OUT FOR GOLF

About 50 candidates for the Harvard varsity and freshman golf teams reported to Capt. A. J. Hutchinson for the opening meeting of the Crimson season.

Hutchinson, who in the absence of a regular coach will have charge of both the varsity and the freshman, briefly explained the system which will be used in selecting the two teams, and outlined plans of the campaign.

Although no regular organized practice will be held until after the spring recess is over 10 days hence, Hutchinson advised all the men to get in as much golf as possible. After the [illegible] of Harvard, elimination matches will be played and two squads of about five players each will be retained.

Belmont Spring Country Club course, according to Stimpson, will be the official Harvard "home" course for the season, although most of the matches will be played at other clubs in the vicinity of Boston.

Plan Polo Invasion

The Argentine Polo Association plans to send a team to the United States to participate in the open championship in June.

Tunney Defends Old-Fashioned Braces

By GENE TUNNEY
World's Heavyweight Champion

I DON'T know how many times I have been approached with propositions to endorse various articles of everyday use. Up to the present, however, I have adhered steadfastly to my decision not to lend my name to any product for advertising purposes.

So far as I am concerned, the food I eat and the clothes I wear shall remain a mystery to the public—with one exception which I'll come to in a moment.

I think I'm entitled to reserve the right to select whatever articles I prefer for my daily needs—and to change to others if I think they may be better. And I don't believe in endorsing a certain product—and then using another.

And last, but not least, I think there are so many excellent things on the market that I should play fair to all the manufacturers, and not commercialize a title which I won in the ring.

NEVERTHELESS, I feel that the time has come to speak right out and endorse galluses—suspenders—braces—bretelles—or whatever my friends want to call them.

I have just read about the reduction that Babe Ruth has accomplished in his ponderous frame. And Babe is the original exponent of suspenders, although I am inclined to believe that he has stolen my idea in adopting them.

According to the baseball correspondents, Babe has reduced from 254 pounds to a mere 225. He has engaged in all kinds of exercises, including boxing (and without umpires), so it is rather difficult for him to attribute his loss of avoirdupois to any certain form of athletics.

BUT without taking the laurels away from the heavyweight champion of the diamond, I claim that his youthful slenderness which is just beginning to become apparent is due to suspenders.

A few days ago I was discussing the weight situation with some of the learned physicians who watch me with all the care that an ambitious mother bestows upon a budding debutante.

"Why do you wear suspenders?" said the old-fashioned medico, who had never heard them called braces.

"More comfortable," I said, snapping a pair of red and green straps, ones that somebody had sent me for my birthday.

"Better tie up a belt when you're exercising," he remarked. And, for all the confidence I place in him, I gave him the argument for my hearty endorsement of suspenders.

U. S. Army Invited to London Horse Show

Washington, April 6—The Earl of Lonsdale, president of the International Horse Shows, London, has forwarded, through Col. R. The appointment of Slattery was [illegible] in Boston

Rogers Hornsby left an [illegible] contender [illegible] the Tribe down [illegible]

Lester Bell gave three [illegible] when he was sold by the second [illegible] and shifted to the seventh place Braves

Every baseball expert in the country has been trying to figure [illegible] Braves moves and [illegible] a logical explanation [illegible]

Judge Fuchs and Charlie Adams [illegible] some heavy [illegible] ball club. They [illegible] Hornsby to a three-year contract [illegible] Lester Bell from the Cast League. They [illegible] over $[illegible] more, as well as [illegible] to put Bell in the line up.

They have made various other offers for star players and are likely to come up with one or two before the season starts next week. Now they [illegible] manager coming home to talk things over [illegible] a deal or something.

Barbee or Cutts to Face B. U. Tomorrow

Harvard will bank on the shoots of two veteran hurlers, Jack Barbee and Frank Cutts, to baffle the Boston University nine in the first game for the Crimson at Soldiers Field tomorrow afternoon. ARENA ICE REMOVED, NO MORE HOCKEY

With the removal of the ice at the Arena the chances for the New York Rangers and Montreal Maroons playing any of the Stanley cup hockey games in Boston went a-glimmering.

Manager George V. Brown of the Arena [illegible] expected to get word from Col. J. S. Hammond of the Rangers when he arrived at Montreal and when it was not received the idea was abandoned. As a result all the games between the American and Canadian division playoff winners will be contested at Montreal.

BARGAIN PRICES FOR ARENA RING SHOW MONDAY

Next Monday night, the boxing fans of Boston will have the privilege of watching Frankie Genaro, flyweight champion of the world, and Johnny Vacca, hard-punching little Brighton fellow, in their 10-round bout at the Arena at popular prices.

Tom Goodwin of the Suffolk A. A. announced that he would stage weekly shows at the Arena every Monday night until late in May, except when the National Amateur Boxing Championships interfere, with prices ranging from 50 cents to $3. The cheapest seats will be put on sale at the Gainsboro st. entrance of the Arena at 7 o'clock Monday night.

Another welcome announcement to fight fans was that the ice was removed from the Arena surface immediately after the close of the local hockey season, and when Genaro, Vacca, [illegible] Ray Murphy, [illegible], Laddie Lee, Bob Jasse and Hy Diamond square off in the 50-round tournament next Monday night, the Arena will be at a comfortable temperature.

Genaro, one of the greatest Italian boxers developed in this country in many a year, will arrive here tomorrow to train at Keller & [illegible] Gymnasium. The little champion, staging an inspired comeback, has beaten every flyweight of note in the past year.

After a long lay-off Vacca will enter the ring Monday night at one as [illegible]. He earned his main bout spurs by whipping Fidel LaBarba [illegible] and [illegible] him [illegible] and expects to make his [illegible] by knocking Genaro out.

[illegible] Hall, the Texas welterweight who is to be [illegible] Donovan's opponent in the 10-round semi-final bout, won two bouts last week at Hot Springs, Ark., and Youngstown, O., knocking out [illegible] and whipping Billy Hall.

The third 10-round bout, between [illegible] Murphy of Lowell and [illegible] of Holyoke, former New England welterweight champion, is equally as attractive as the other features.

The eight rounders, in which Laddie Lee will be paired with Bob Jasse and Jackie Donohue with Murray Layton, and the four-round opening bout between Hy Diamond, promising Jewish featherweight from the West End and Kid [illegible] van of Lynn, round out one of the finest cards ever offered in Boston at popular prices.

KEARNS HOPES TO DENT JACK'S BANKROLL

New York, April 6 (INS)—Jack Dempsey will never fight again in the opinion of his former manager, Jack Kearns, who has arrived in New York to press his suit for [illegible] against the old heavyweight champion.

"Dempsey is shot," Kearns declared. "I don't think he can ever get in shape to fight a good [illegible] I don't know [illegible] but [illegible] knows [illegible] He's [illegible] 33 years old and doesn't need the money.

"He's [illegible] in real estate, [illegible] other investments and ready assets. I hope to make a dent in his bankroll when our case comes to trial."

The Kearns-Dempsey litigation breaks out again on April 16 in the Federal District Court here. Kearns arrived from Chicago accompanied by Mickey Walker, middleweight champion.

Kearns has closed with Promoter Jim Mullen for a match between Walker and Ace Hudkins, Nebraska welterweight, in Chicago on June [illegible]

Opposition to this match developed today when Tom Donohue, president of the National Boxing Association, said he would not approve Hudkins as an opponent for Walker and would [illegible] one I [illegible] boxing commission to that effect. Hudkins was put on the list of challengers named by the N. B. A. and Walker is now under suspension from that body.

Kearns thinks he can straighten Walker out with Donohue. Kearns has two other matches lined up for Walker. One is with Leo Lomski, [illegible] is to be fought in Newark, N. J.

Babe Ruth Saved $70,000 Last Year

New York, April 6 (INS)—Babe Ruth saved $70,5[illegible]0 in 1927 and Lou Gehrig made more on a [illegible] barnstorming tour last fall than the Yankees paid him for the entire season. It is revealed in an article in the current issue of Collier's Weekly.

Hugh McNulty Will Oppose Georgetown

By JOHN B. GILLOOLY

Hugh McNulty will toe the mound for Boston College in their opennig game of the season against Georgetown tomorrow afternoon. Coach Duffy rests all his hopes of winning over the powerful Hilltop nine on the slim shoulders of Hughie, three-time conqueror of Holy Cross last spring.

McNulty, absent from practice all week with a cold which was trying to settle in his lungs, was on hand to leave with the Eagle squad. Coach Duffy said that McNulty was feeling fine, his week's rest having warded off the danger, and that he would be on the slab in the first game below the Mason and Dixon line.

Georgetown has a great team from all early season indications. They have a wealth of pitching [illegible] and a [illegible] hitting and smooth-fielding club. They have already won four games which will give them a big advantage on the untried Eagles.

TWO SWEET PITCHERS

The southern college has four fine pitchers, anyone of whom could take the mound against B. C. and pitch good enough ball to send the Duffy gang to defeat. It's a question in the southern college whether Pete Burch or Jerry Hughes is the best moundsman, with Fogarty and Bonner [illegible] just a step behind the two [illegible]

Local fans remember Burch. He has been with the Georgetown team in these regions before and hails from Connecticut. But Hughes is better known. He was with Dean Academy a few years ago and acclaimed the greatest college pitching prospect since the days of Owen Carroll of Holy Cross and Detroit, American League fame.

Hughes has been living up to predictions at Georgetown and he's due to be in the limelight throughout the college baseball world before the season comes to a close. Hughes may face B. C. tomorrow. Georgetown plays Penn State in the morning and takes B. C. in the afternoon. Burch and Hughes are slated to work.

Coach Hugh Duffy of B. C. had little to say as his boys hopped on board the boat train for Fall River. "We have a good team," said Duff, but didn't care to make any prognostications, being of the belief that most success rests in the hands of the Goddess Fate.

Boston College's lineup was settled by Duffy before leaving. Clinton is going to sit on the bench with Paddy Creedon taking his place at second base. This is one of the biggest surprises of the training season for Clinton seemed an indispensable part of the "million dollar" infield of collegiate baseball.

OUTFIELD SETTLED

Clinton was held back by a sore arm developed in practice at the armory, and this was the opportunity for Creedon to break into the limelight. Creedon got in, started off well, and has shown to good advantage. Clinton has been coming along fast the last few days, but the lead that Creedon has on him will take a long while to make up.

Al Weston, first base, Fred Maciewicz, shortstop, and Hank O'Day, third base, will make up the rest of the B. C. infield. All are good fielders and have shown fairly well at bat in the practice games at Newton.

The outfield will have Larry Gibson, left field, Andy Morris, center field, and Ted Duffy, right field. Herb Stokinger, only sub outfielder taken along, will see plenty of action.

Bob Smith, too, who was taken in the role of a hurler, is sure to be used in the garden some time during the trip.

OFFER JACK DEMPSEY SHARKEY BOUT HERE

By JACK CONWAY

JACK DEMPSEY has been offered a guarantee of $250,000 by Matchmaker Tom Goodwin of the Suffolk A. A. to battle Jack Sharkey in a ten-round bout at Fenway Park this summer.

Goodwin went after a Dempsey-Sharkey match when he [illegible] that the real reason why Dempsey has refused to [illegible] and fight Tunney is because Rickard will not pay [illegible] what his services are worth.

Rickard is under contract to pay [illegible] fee of $[illegible] 50 per cent [illegible] Dempsey [illegible] demanding [illegible] believes [illegible] money [illegible] He has [illegible] that Tunney entered [illegible] a new contract with Rickard under the terms of which he would get [illegible] per cent of the spoils and [illegible] a similar amount.

Jack Conway

New York friends of Dempsey have advised him to come east and tackle Sharkey, Risko and Paulino. They have pointed out to him that he would have more than an even chance of victory in these matches and that he could demand the [illegible] of the spoils.

SHARKEY CONSENTS TO BOUT

Goodwin already has the consent of Johnny Buckley, Sharkey's manager, to a Dempsey match. Buckley is of the opinion that the proposed contest would draw a million dollar gate here. Fight fans from all parts of the country will journey to Boston to see the battle.

When Sharkey and Dempsey [illegible] in New York [illegible] Dempsey won by a knockout in the seventh round after a sensational [illegible]. Sharkey almost knocked Dempsey out in the first round. It [illegible] later charged that Sharkey was [illegible] and that these [illegible] paved the way for the knockout.

Sharkey [illegible] on Monday for a 12-round bout with [illegible] which will be staged [illegible] Tex Rickard at Madison Square [illegible] on April 30.

The [illegible] was [illegible] after [illegible] Sharkey [illegible] a week [illegible] after the Madison Square [illegible] poration agreed to pay 55 per cent [illegible] bout.

Sharkey and Delaney then agreed [illegible] purse [illegible] per cent. The question of [illegible] number of rounds held up Delaney for several days. The [illegible] wanted the bout for 10 [illegible] while Sharkey asked for 15. It was finally agreed [illegible]

SHARKEY RISKO FOR CHICAGO

[illegible] Buckley stated today that he has agreed to let Sharkey fight [illegible] Risko for Jim Mullens [illegible] this summer. Risko [illegible] the [illegible] he may get the [illegible] at [illegible]

[illegible] should know by this time [illegible] he would not get a chance [illegible] Tunney. Heeney is the champion's [illegible] opponent [illegible] Cleve and [illegible] Mac [illegible] the [illegible] treatment [illegible] considers him too tough.

[illegible] J. Fugazy is also after [illegible] Risko tussle for Ebbets Field.

Rickard probably figures he can [illegible] Dempsey [illegible] out of [illegible] he may be the [illegible] for the return tussle between Sharkey and Risko.

Bill Reynolds Wins Toronto Road Race

Toronto, Ont., April 6 (AP)—Bill Reynolds, of Galt, captured the 15-mile road race, feature of a civic athletic program here today, from an international field that included several United States stars.

Fred Ward, of the Millrose A. C., New York, [illegible] second, and [illegible] of Buffalo, member of the 1924 American Olympic team, third.

Reynolds' time of 1 hour, 27 minutes, [illegible] seconds, failed to endanger the world's mark of 1:19.11 set at Toronto Aug. 1, 1927, by Cliff [illegible] of Galt.

[illegible] declined to compete in the [illegible] event today because he is training for the Olympic marathon and does not want to change his pace [illegible] shorter distances.

For thirteen miles Johnny Miles of Hamilton, who once won the Boston marathon, gave Reynolds a tough battle but the race was too much for Miles and he was forced to quit.

Blindfolded . . . . in scientific test of leading Cigarettes, W. T. Benda selects OLD GOLD

Photograph of W. T. Benda, taken in his studio . . . while test was being made. In background may be seen some of the famous Benda masks.

W. T. BENDA, eminent illustrator and creator of the Benda masks.

"I have been an inveterate cigarette smoker for years and my interest in cigarettes not only induced me to make this blindfold test, but to make it three times in succession.

Each time I selected the same cigarette . . . OLD GOLD.

"However, there was no other choice I could honestly make. OLD GOLD was so superior in its delicacy of aroma, its rich, full flavor so entirely free from any hint of sting or burn that it immediately appealed to my taste. Since the test I have been smoking OLD GOLDS steadily and I find that they are the most satisfying cigarettes I have ever smoked."

W. T. Benda

How Test Was Made

Mr. Benda was blindfolded, and, in the presence of two responsible witnesses, was given one each of the four leading cigarettes to smoke. To clear the taste, coffee was served before each cigarette. Mr. Benda was unaware of the identity of these cigarettes during test. After smoking the four cigarettes, he was asked to designate by number his choice. He named "Number 4," which was OLD GOLD.

Madam...See how Dishes Gleam and Glisten when washed this quick new way

This frankly written advertisement tells about a wonderful new soap that makes dishes sparkle and yet cannot harm your hands.

CHINA and glass that sparkle like diamonds . . . drained dry without towels.

Never a trace of soapy film . . . dishes shine spick and span in far less time.

Your precious hands kept white and smooth . . . in spite of three dishwashings a day!

Madam, that's what Super Suds offers you . . . a new way to wash dishes that's faster, easier, safer than any you've ever tried before.

It's a new type of soap made in tiny, thin-walled "beads," that dissolves instantly . . . whisks away all grease and grime . . . rinses quickly . . . leaves dishes glistening clean . . . without a trace of soapy film!

Already thousands have adopted this new way to sparkling dishes and softer daintier hands.

Now we urge you earnestly and sincerely to follow their example. It's too wonderful a household help for any intelligent woman to overlook.

This is why it's so good

No other type of soap is like Super Suds. No other type of soap can give you such remarkable results.

It's the thinnest type of soap ever created. Four times as thin as chip soap.

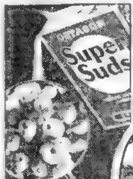
That's why it dissolves so quickly . . . why it rinses instantly . . . why it saves so much time and energy too.

Super Suds is not made just for dishwashing alone. You can use it for laundry work, too.

There's no need to use your washboard now. No need to scrub and rub until your back just aches from the strain.

And with Super Suds you'll save much time in rinsing. It dissolves so completely that you get along with one less rinsing.

Your wash dries out a wonderful snowy white. There's never a trace of soap stain . . . no grimy, yellow looks.



Women marvel when they see these beads of soap magnified. This is how they look.

SUPER SUDS is great for clothes washing. Gets them snowy in no time. No rubbing . . . scrubbing, or extra rinsing. Better try it, Madam.

Hands get red when you wash the dishes? They won't when you use Super Suds, Madam. Three dishwashings a day will leave them dainty.

Please make this simple test

Madam, don't take our word for all this. Test Super Suds out for yourself. Just buy one box and compare it with the soap you're using now.

If you don't feel it's as good as we say, then go back to your old soap . . . and you're only out ten cents.

Put it down on your grocery list today.

An Octagon Soap Product. Every box of Super Suds carries a valuable coupon. Cut it out and redeem it with coupons from other Octagon Soap products for desirable premiums.

SUPERIORITY TRAIT

By LUCY LOWELL

THERE is a saying—and plenty of proof to substantiate the truth of it—that human nature has a broad streak of humbug running through the very best of it.

And one of the most pernicious forms this humbug takes, it seems to me, is superiority.

The wish to prove yourself somewhat above someone else; the willingness to patronize, to do something—even a kindness—by way of proving how important you are.

And, oddly enough, the moment this protege turns about and begins to make signs indicating that he may be of some importance in his own right, your interest in him ceases, and if you don't actually feel that you must do something to show him his place, you at least never make a move to carry on what you began and help him further.

E. W. Howe writes succinctly about this odd twist of human nature:

"If you succeed in life, you must do it in spite of the efforts of others to pull you down. There is nothing in the idea that people are willing to help those who help themselves.

"People are willing to help a man who can't help himself, but as soon as a man is able to help himself, and does it, they join in making his life as uncomfortable as possible."

Perhaps there is a bit of envy in this somewhere for the unsuspected quality in the under dog which picks him up and impels him not only to stand on his own feet but pushes him forward.

But I believe most of it is due to a sense of amazed outrage that the one who has been the audience for that same streak of superiority suddenly had stepped up and become part of the action and in a fair way to developing a streak of his own.

THE MEDITATIONS OF A WIFE

By HELEN ROWLAND

YOU can choose your own brand of marriage these days.

If you like it sweet and old-fashioned and settled and suburban, "with roses peeping in and babies peeping out," and gardens and lawn-mowers, and servant problems and bungalow aprons and gingham curtains and embroidered guest towels—well, that's the marriage for YOU!

It's good and solid and wholesome—if not stimulating or exciting or disturbing. It's the kind that Mother used to make—an old established brand, recommended by all doctors, clergymen and wise people.

But if you like the 50-50 marriage, with your own job and your own pay envelope and your own latch key; with a kitchenette apartment and "arty" curtains, and gay little restaurant dinners together, and sketchy breakfasts, and your "independence" and all that—well, you can have that, too.

Only be sure to choose the right sort of 50-50 husband, who believes in reciprocity and won't reneg on wiping the dishes and will enjoy painting the furniture, and will help you cook the bacon if you help him bring it home. They're hard to find.

Or if you prefer a "part-time marriage," in which you have separate studios, and separate careers, and separate friends and separate towels and brushes and amusements—well, that's fashionable, too, these days.

It isn't exactly "marriage," but it's a good imitation and warranted to last long. And there MAY be some comfort in opening your own mail and knowing just where to find your talcum, and not having anybody around to muss up your papers or fuss with your pens and brushes, or wake you up prowling around the house nights.

Seeing each other only on Fridays and Tuesdays and holidays, and having only two breakfasts together a week is likely to help keep the bloom on the romance a great deal longer—especially for two artistic temperaments. The part time marriage has its POINTS!

Or if you prefer the fashionable marriage, in which one of you lives in Paris or at Palm Beach, and the other spends the winters in New York and the summers at Newport, and you are considered happily married as long as you exchange post-cards—well, that's being done, too.

Such marriages seldom outlast the honeymoon, and the bride usually tucks a Guide Book to Paris and the address of a good lawyer in her Hope Chest before she puts on her wedding veil. But everybody to his taste!

It's all a matter of what brand of marriage suits YOU. They are all laid out on Life's shop counter ready for you to choose from and temptingly displayed to catch the eye.

Only be sure, before you decide to take one, that you are willing to pay the PRICE. For every brand of marriage LOOKS like a bargain—but Fate always comes around to collect the bill!

Watch Tongue For Signs of Illness

Your tongue is nothing more than the upper end of your stomach and intestines. It is the first thing your doctor looks at. It tells at a glance the condition of your digestive system—and physicians say that 90 per cent of all sicknesses start with stomach and bowel trouble.

Look at your TONGUE every morning!

A white or yellowish coating on your tongue is a danger signal of those digestive disorders. It tells you why the least exertion tires you out; why you have pains in the bowels, gas, sour stomach, dizzy spells.

And it's a sign you need Tanlac. This good old reliable medicine has helped thousands who were physical wrecks. See how the first bottle helps you.

Tanlac contains no mineral drugs; it is made of barks, herbs and roots—nature's own medicines for the sick. Get a bottle from your druggist today. Your money back if it doesn't help you.

Catch Question Is Answered by Frisby

One of our many field agents out gathering data for Free Legal Advice Bureau. No expense or trouble is spared to get strictly fresh data, which is used in all our opinions.

Question—What is the best way to open a can of sauerkraut juice?

J. Scanlon, Pres.,
Sauerkraut League.

Answer—This is apparently a catch question, intended to trap our Free Legal Bureau. We hope our readers will keep this in mind, as there is apparently a movement on foot—launched by our enemies—to show that our legal advice to the people is a fraud. We expected some dastardly move like this, and are prepared to meet it. As everybody knows, the best way to open a can of sauerkraut juice is to hold the can firmly between the knees and use an ordinary brace and bit. If the can slips, you have a clear case against the cannery interests, and should file your claim, first taking care to remove all flake rust with a wire brush.

Congressman Frisby.

STOCK MARKET CLOSED, BUT TRADES GO ON

By FRANK H. MELOON,
Financial Editor.

New York and Boston Stock Exchange trading, facing a triple holiday, will be resumed Monday at 10 a. m. As we stated in our regular WLOE broadcast yesterday, this does not mean all stock and bond trading will be suspended during this period. The "over the counter" markets will go merrily on. No record of the volume of sales that will take place in unlisted stock issues will probably ever be available.

As neither today nor Saturday is a legal holiday in this country, transactions made on these days will of course be entirely within the law. Many thousands of bank, insurance, utility and other kinds of stocks and bonds will be traded in at prices to be agreed upon between buyer and seller. It is unlikely that many of the hundreds of New York and Boston listed issues will change hands during the triple holiday, however. But they surely will all be salable at some price, probably not far removed from the bid and asked quotations which follow the close of the market on the tape.

British rubber restrictions are to be lifted. The British monopoly, as Wall st sees it, is "broken." What the ultimate effect on the rubber trade and affiliated industries will be remains to be seen. When President William O'Neil of the General Tire & Rubber Co. predicted Thomas A. Edison's quest for a "cheap rubber" would be futile, it is not likely he foresaw what has transpired.

William O'Neil

Thomas A. Edison

The effect of lifting the British restrictions will certainly be considerable. We imagine Mr. Edison's work will, however, go on. Rubber consumption grows by leaps and bounds. A big percentage of the world's population "travels on rubber." The proportion will increase.

* * *

Try to visualize the notable gathering of eastern railroad presidents at the trunk line conferences, President Atterbury of the Pennsylvania, President Loree of the Delaware & Hudson, President Crowley of New York Central, President Willard of the Baltimore & Ohio, President Bernet of Erie. Also the big van Sweringen brothers, O. P. and M. J.

Where except in America could such a gathering be found? There's Daniel Willard, chief executive, who started as a penniless boy up in Vermont. Another was an immigrant boy from Erin's isle, another a blacksmith. Again it is permissible to exclaim: "America, the Land of Opportunity!"

"Give our average citizen an invested surplus, be it only a small amount, perhaps employed in the ownership of his home, or in the form of sound securities, and you have a better, more useful citizen." This was one of the important points stressed by Congressman Louis T. McFadden, of Pennsylvania, in the inaugural talk on the Halsey, Stuart & Co. radio program. The program was broadcast by the National Broadcasting Company over a chain of 27 stations.

"He is more stabilized, more interested in affairs of state and of business, less inclined to be carried away by spurious leaders and unsound doctrines. A nation of investors will inevitably lend balance to our thinking, our actions, and perhaps more than any single influence will fortify and strengthen the foundations upon which our government rests," declared Congressman McFadden.

Commenting on this innovation in radio broadcasting—the idea of combining investment counsel and advice with outstanding entertainment—and the need for it, he said: "Never before in the world's history have so many people had a surplus above living requirements as in this fortunate country of ours during the past several years. Not only has there been a vast increase in wealth, but a widespread distribution of it.

* * *

"And with the broader distribution of wealth there has undoubtedly come a better understanding of how to use it, but yet much, I fear, still remains to be done along this line. The vast sums that find their way into fraudulent schemes every year is convincing evidence of that.

* * *

"I think that the house of Halsey, Stuart & Co. is doing a fine public service in employing this vast network of radio communication to broadcast the principles of sound investments to millions of listeners. It is really an unique undertaking in the history of finance. If this forward-looking venture contributes even a part toward the realization of these accomplishments, vast good is bound to spring from it."

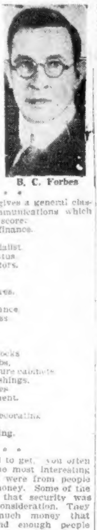
Business Is Enterprising, This Experience Reveals

By B. C. FORBES

New York, April 6—If employment is not booming it is not because manufacturers, merchants, tradesmen and others are not striving strenuously to boom business.



B. C. Forbes

The writer recently filed plans for a modest addition to his home.

Followed a deluge of offers of merchandise and services of every conceivable kind. Clearly, most elaborate systems have been devised for obtaining business "leads" and of utilizing them.

The following gives a general classification of communications which poured in by the score:

Mortgage and finance.
Furniture.
Furniture specialist.
Heating apparatus.
Heating regulators.
Wall paper.
Shingles.
Plumbing fixtures.
Cabinet work.
Burglary insurance.
Copper and brass.
Fencing.
Construction.
Linoleum.
Hardware and locks.
Trees and shrubs.
Radiator enclosure cabinets.
Fireplace furnishings.
Lighting fixtures.
Plaster and cement.
Tile.
Painting and decorating.
Electric cooker.
Weather stripping.

"Money is hard to get," you often hear. To me, the most interesting of all the letters were from people anxious to lend money. Some of the letters indicated that security was a matter of no consideration. They simply had so much money that they couldn't find enough people willing to accept some of it. Solemn assurances were given that the rate asked would astonish and delight me by its sweet reasonableness.

The money-lenders stand prepared not only to finance the building operations, but some are quite sure there will be lots of little things my wife will want and they are most eager that she should get them even though I haven't on hand the necessary wherewithal. Just let them do it. It will be for them an extreme pleasure. They are so very anxious to make us all happy and to enjoy our home to the full. The amount desired doesn't matter in the slightest. One lender gives the assurance, "I represent a syndicate of private leaders," which he is anxious to have me share "under a very liberal arrangement and at the lowest obtainable interest rates."

Taking the letters as a whole, they are effectively written. Most of them start out very informally and pleasantly. Some express the hope that the "new home" will be showered with blessings. Then they adroitly go on to explain how the concern sending the letter is prepared and fitted to sell the desired blessings. Few of the letters are starkly formal.

One impression conveyed is that apparently a very large part of the buying of things connected with a home is done on the installment plan. A great many of the letters emphasized that the matter of payment could be arranged without the slightest trouble. Not only furniture, but fancy stuff of various description was offered on easy payment plans.

The incident forcefully illustrates the alertness of modern American business. Obviously, no possibility of obtaining a new account is overlooked. It is manifest, also, that small communities are thoroughly covered, for all this occurred in connection with an addition to a home in the suburb of moderate size.

I noticed that the communications which received the most favorable attention were those which looked best. Cheap, shabby-looking envelopes containing correspondingly cheap and shabby-looking enclosures were given short shrift. On the other hand, some of the well-illustrated ones compelled attention and aroused discussion.

Where the unit of sale is at all sizeable, it would seem that mail sales efforts should be made as attractive as possible. A cheap letter or circular suggests a cheap concern behind it.

The homes of the masses in America are admittedly more attractive than those in any other country. For this we have mainly to thank high wages, of course; but at least some credit is due the enterprising business concerns who bring their appealing wares to the attention of prospective buyers.

SHIP 5 MILLIONS IN SOVIET GOLD FROM U. S.

New York, April 6 (AP)—Five million dollars worth of gold bars sent here last February by the Russian government was on the way back to Europe today, but the legal skirmishes which kept the treasure idle in bank vaults for six weeks were not yet ended.

The Soviet gold arrived on February 21, consigned jointly to the Chase National Bank and the Equitable Trust Company, New York correspondents for the bank of the United States of Soviet Russia. It was to have been used as a basis for credit in trade relations between the Soviet and the United States.

But the Treasury Department refused to accept it for assay when the two American banks declined to guarantee title to the gold. Meanwhile, the bars lay stacked in vaults, losing interest at the rate of $700 a day.

Shortly after the Treasury Department announced its decision, the Bank of France started suit in the United States District Court for possession of the gold, alleging that before the Russian revolution it had deposited with the State Bank of Russia $5,000,000 which never was returned.

Representatives of the Soviet bank here said the gold was being sent to a bank in Berlin, where it would be restored to use for credit purposes.

The gold is aboard the German liner Dresden bound for Bremen via Cherbourg, France. This aroused the question here as to whether the French authorities might not seize the gold at the French port.

MYSTERY OF TAFT KIN CLEARED ON DEATH-BED

Winchester, Va., April 6 (AP)—The mystery of Miss Virginia E. Rawson, 70, who claims distant kinship to Chief Justice Taft, was considered by friends to have been cleared up by a statement on her death bed.

Miss Rawson, just before her death yesterday, said she was a member of a wealthy and socially prominent family in New Rochelle, N. Y., and had left home 36 years ago without giving her relatives a reason and therefore concealed her whereabouts from her kinfolk.

NEW PLOT SEEN IN NICARAGUA POLITICS

By JAMES T. WILLIAMS, JR.

Washington, April 6—A new scheme is hatching in Nicaragua, according to reports just received here, to hamstring the people of that republic in their effort to hold next October the first free and fair presidential election in the history of Central America.

To deadlock the October elections and throw them into the Nicaraguan Congress is the object of this new scheme. Its author is alleged to be Gen. Emiliano Chamorro, who drove President Salorsano and Vice-President Sacasa from Nicaragua and then seized the presidency by force and precipitated the revolution of 1926.

Not only did the United States and the Central American Republics refuse Chamorro recognition, but the Nicaraguan constitution bars him from running for president this year.

TRIED TO INTERFERE

This action by the United States was followed by his attempt to prevent the carrying out of the Tipatapa arrangement by the terms of which the United States agreed to supervise the October election and police the country until a new national police force could be trained to take the place of the "chain-gang" army, which has been the mainstay of Nicaraguan dictatorships for many years.

Here is the latest scheme of the Chamorristas as reported to Washington:

Luis F. Corea, Nicaragua minister to Washington during the despotism, is now on his way from the United States to Nicaragua. Upon arrival there he is expected to announce himself as an "independent" candidate of the Liberal party for President.

If Corea goes through with this scheme, his endeavor will be to take away from Gen. Moncada enough votes to prevent Moncada or any other candidate from getting a clear majority of the votes cast at the October election.

MET FAILURE

That was probably why Chamorro did his best in the closing days of the recent session of Congress to prolong its life until late last December. Had he succeeded, he would be in control of the Congress which in case of deadlock would elect the next president.

In this attempt Chamorro failed. Leaders of the Liberal party whose unanimous choice for president is Gen. Moncada, insist that Corea stands no chance of getting enough votes to deadlock the coming election except under one condition.

These Nicaraguan developments of the last fortnight increase the probability that the United States must devise some form of protection for the Nicaraguan treasury for the remainder of this year.

'GOOD WILLERS' VOTE CRUISE SUCCESS

By BERT FORD
Boston Evening American Staff Correspondent

SS. Calamares, April 6, via Tropical Radio Telegraph Company—Resolutions memorializing the success of the "Good Will" cruise to the West Indies and Central America have been unanimously adopted by the members of the Boston Chamber of Commerce expedition.

By request of the committee appointed by the passengers the full text will be withheld until the resolutions have been submitted to the directors of the Boston Chamber of Commerce to whom they are addressed. They will be delivered in person by the leader of the "Good Will" party on his arrival in Boston.

The resolutions briefly review the welcome given the good will pilgrims from New England at the various ports of call.

CORDIAL TO U. S.

"At each of these ports," said the committee in its report, "the Boston Chamber of Commerce party was met by representative men who demonstrated their interest in the visitors and expressed the desire for more cordial business relations and co-operation."

The resolutions review how eager English-speaking clerks were to serve and how plentiful was the supply of American merchandise.

"All the passengers," add the resolutions, "desire to express their appreciation for the privilege of being part of the tour which has been conducted especially well and has served its purpose, namely of pleasure, good fellowship and business."

CAPTAIN THANKED

Captain Harry Spencer and his crew of the Calamares, flagship of the United Fruit Company's Great White Fleet, are thanked for their share in making the expedition the success it has been.

H. Alfred Hansen, type founder, of Auburndale, Arthur V. Howland, vice-president of the Tileston and Hollingsworth Company, Boston, made up the committee on resolutions.

They were read and voted upon at dinner Wednesday evening while the Calamares was docked at Havana. It was made the occasion of special ceremonies on behalf of the "Good Willers" from Boston. Samuel F. Patterson, a Boston clothing merchant, presented Captain Spencer with six linked elephants of graduated size carved from a huge elephant's tusk.

Capt. Spencer was taken by surprise. He told the party that he and his crew enjoyed their company so much that he hoped the cruise would be made an annual feature.

SHOPPING AT HAVANA

"Chief" Fortune, party leader and orator, acted as toastmaster. Mark Mason, Boston toy importer, and your correspondent handled subscriptions and "Cheerio" Patterson bought the gift which the popular skipper said he would treasure.

Havana was reached at 4 p. m. on Wednesday. The party did their final shopping, went sightseeing or attended cabarets in the evening. We sailed for New York at 9 o'clock this morning.

Just before Havana was reached several of the party who came equipped with movie cameras snapped the entire party walking single file on the hurricane deck under a blazing sun. The film churners were Samuel V. Patterson, H. Alfred Hansen and Arthur V. Howland. A troop of others clicked still cameras.

U. S. RUBBER PREFERRED DIVIDEND OMITTED

New York, April 7 (AP)—Directors of the United States Rubber Company have omitted the quarterly dividend of $2 a share on the 8 per cent preferred stock due at this time, the first action of this kind since the issue was created in 1905. The amount of stock now outstanding is $65,110,000.

Charles B. Seger, chairman of the board, explained the action was due to an indenture covering the 6½ per cent serial notes of March 1, 1925, and to losses resulting from a decline in the value of the company's crude rubber reserve.

RADIO DIALOG

Station WLOE will remain silent tonight, having cancelled its regular features of secular music which would have come into the Good Friday schedule. Broadcasting stopped following the Martha Lee hour this morning, and the reading of Boston Evening American news bulletins just before noon. The regular program of the station will be resumed tomorrow morning at 10:30 with Elsie Robbins Gross to be heard in an organ recital from the State Theater.

THE other local stations are pursuing their normal course. The La Palina Smoker on WNAC will have Jimmy Hussey, popular Broadway comedian, as guest entertainer at 10 o'clock.

The Palmolive Company's long broadcast through WEEI will have a touch of the seasonal in the Hallelujah chorus from Handel's "Messiah." The Revelers will do "The Gospel Train" and "Just Across the Street from Heaven."

WEEI broadcasts this afternoon's performance of Dubois' "The Seven Last Words of Christ," by the Brockton Choral Art Club. The broadcast comes from the stage of the Brockton Theater.

"The Crucifixion," by Sir John Stainer, will be broadcast through WJZ at 10 o'clock tonight. The work is a meditation on the Passion and Crucifixion of Christ, employing Biblical passages and sacred verse.

OF all the commercial programs on the air tonight, the Whittall Anglo-Persian have gone in most thoroughly for frankly religious type of presentation. Their program will be heard through WEEI at 9 o'clock. It includes "The Lost Chord" of Sullivan, "Come Ye Disconsolate," "Ave Maria" of Gounod; "Glory to Thee, My God, This Night" by Tallis and the Pilgrim's Chorus from Wagner's "Tannhaeuser." Strangely, the director has fallen into the usual error of including the erotic "Rosary" with his religious offerings.

The Wrigley Hour will bring 21 varied and quick-moving numbers of the popular type to WBZ listeners from 8 to 9. This hour is setting a pace in radio entertainment which many of the other great national broadcast sponsors find it difficult to keep up with. Without resorting to expensive talent, the authors of this program have found a way to present lively and varied entertainment which can hold the listener's attention to the 61st minute.

IT would be hard to picture a male quartet in action and not giving way to the urge to do songs of the type of "The Glow Worm" and "Little David Play on Your Harp." For those who enjoy kittenish musical variations of such melodies by coy tenors and cute bassos, a treat is in store in tonight's broadcast by the Cities Service Cavaliers from 8 to 9 via WEEI.

Mary and Bob are going all the way to San Francisco tonight to talk with a man who knows something about a girl in Russia during the recent revolution. We'll hear all about it through WNAC at 9 o'clock.

CHINA, India and the Far East generally will figure in the musical offerings of the Pioneers broadcasting through WNAC at 10:30. There will also be a hitherto unheard composition of the late Victor Herbert, "Hurdy-Gurdy," discovered among the composer's effects recently by Harold Sanford.

FOX WILL FILM ELSIE JANIS STORY

By LOUELLA O. PARSONS

LOS ANGELES, April 6—Playing Elsie Janis in the movies will mean more to Madge Bellamy than just acting. She will sing the Elsie Janis songs, and really sing them, too, for the Fox company will produce "Mother Knows Best" with movietone.

I don't really think it's necessary to go into detail about "Mother Knows Best." Edna Ferber wrote the story from Cosmopolitan Magazine, and it's doubtful if any short story in years has created such a furore. It was supposed to be the story of Elsie and her mother. Mrs. Wierbower, who has become known during Elsie's career as one of the most conspicuous stage mothers.

No one ever sees Elsie without her mother. They have been the subject of jokes, comments and articles, and yet Mrs. Wierbower's influence has always remained dominant in her talented daughter's life.

Madge Bellamy, who has a very good singing voice, has been rehearsing all of Miss Janis' songs. Jack Blystone will direct, and you may count this as one of Fox's important pictures for the next year.

HOLLYWOOD is slow in giving recognition. But once it relents success come fast. Lothar Mendes, for a whole year, waited around for a chance to direct and now he is doing so well that Emil Jannings told me that he will direct another picture with him.

"Lothar," said Jannings, "is a fine director, so fine I have him for my next picture." That, you will admit, is praise indeed. It means Mal St. Clair, who was to direct Jannings, has two other pictures coming up, one of them "The Fleet's In," with Clara Bow. Isn't that a title?

Can't you see all the sailor boys with Clara making eyes at them? Jannings says that his next is a Jewish story and I gathered from what he told me that it has to do with Ellis Island. He is finishing "The Street of Sin" with Lothar Mendes megaphoning.

CONSTANCE TALMADGE is on her merry way to New York. She made up her mind within an hour to accompany her sister, Natalie Talmadge Keaton, and Buster and, presto chango, she is not traveling across the desert on her way East. Just before she started United Artists studio sent word to her to be back in six weeks, ready to start work.

Did Connie agree? With a smile. She has been chafing at the bit over the delay and the news was like money from home. Yet, Connie turned down a good offer in England and one from a New York producer. But, anyhow, "All's well that ends well," so our quotation book says.

THERE is something in being versatile, yet you would think anyone with the talent of James Montgomery Flagg, and his ability for drawing beautiful women, would stick to his trade. But there never was a man with a certain talent who didn't want to do something else. Charlie Chaplin all his life has longed to play "Hamlet" and Jack Barrymore has wanted to play comedies.

Flagg is to write the titles for "The Yellow Lily," a Billie Dove picture directed by Alexander Korda. Well, at least with his discerning eye for beauty he will appreciate Billie's loveliness.

"GEORGE WASHINGTON COHEN," typical of its name, has been purchased by Tiffany-Stahl. That is the first step. Now they are trying to induce George Jessel to make the picture.

Jessel, they tell me, is a little bit wary of Hollywood since Al Jolson was put into "The Jazz Singer" in his place. Yet he needn't feel any qualms for there is certainly a place for more than one comedian in our town. Jessel, too, has his followers, and there are those who think his Jewish characterizations are the last word in stage portrayals.

COMES word from Blanche Sweet in a bright, newsy letter that "Dawn," an English motion picture produced by Herbert Wilcox, is creating a furore in staid London. Miss Sweet speaks highly of the picture, but wonders if it will be allowed to be shown in this country, where censorial regulations are so strict.

She is thrilled over her chance to do "The Green Hat," and is planning to buy Iris March's clothes in London, although she admits Michael Arlen's heroine probably did her shopping in Paris.

The exteriors for "The Green Hat," Miss Sweet says, will be made in London and Paris and wherever the book calls for them, and the interiors partly in London and partly in Nice.

ACCORDING to no less an authority than Olive Carey, the Harry Carey ranch did not belong to Roy Stewart at the time of the flood. She said that Stewart intended purchasing the property and it was to go into escrow the day after the dam broke, so unfortunately it was left on their hands.

But she says she wouldn't have minded so much losing the cattle and money if the lives of the people could have been saved. That is like Olive Carey. Speaking in a less sad tone she mentioned that "The Trail of '98" is doing an excellent business in New York, and she said that the comments are very favorable.

"So This Is America!"

Mubar Mooradian May Come to Love the Land While Having SMALL Respect for Its Bureaucracy

If there is any reasonable explanation of the wrong that has been done a Haverhill father and his son by some of the under-officials of this Government it should be forthcoming from Washington.

If it is not forthcoming one of our Senators or Representatives should press the Department of Labor for it and keep pegging away until his questions are answered.

The Bureau of Immigration of the Department of Labor released from Ellis Island on Tuesday of this week a 16-year-old boy who had been detained there TWO YEARS AND SIX MONTHS.

His name is Mubar Mooradian. His father is a World War veteran, member of Comeau Post of the American Legion.

The boy was born in Armenia in January, 1912. Before the end of that year his father came to the United States. In two years he had saved enough to pay for the passage of wife and baby. But the World War broke.

Hagop Mooradian enlisted in 1918. His wife was killed by Turks. Through the Near East Relief the father traced the whereabouts of his boy and on September 5, 1925, Mubar reached Ellis Island.

The doctors said he had an incurable case of trachoma, a disease of the eyes. He was "detained," at a daily cost to his father of $2.75. When the veteran's fortune of $165 was exhausted the American Legion came to the rescue, through its National Child Welfare Committee.

Orders for the boy's deportation have been followed by "stays," and "stays" by further hearings.

And after two years and six months—two years and six months of torture and agony—he is permitted to come in to his father's country.

Secretary of Labor Davis is to be the principal speaker next month at the annual banquet of the Haverhill Chamber of Commerce.

If the case of Mubar Mooradian has not received a thorough airing by that time perhaps Mr. Davis will explain it.

It will stand a lot of explaining.

Bay State Geography

Where Is Mt. Wachusett?

Someone should write a book about the "mountain nobody knows."

According to Lieutenant Harold B. Williams of the State Police it is a Worcester County mountain, not more than 50 miles from Boston.

They have stopped asking candidates for the State Police about it because to do so was useless.

> "Applicants are told at the start that our questions in geography have to do with Massachusetts only, but apparently this makes no difference. The mountain has been placed everywhere in the world, even in the Desert of Sahara. We have decided to cross the question from the list."

The records show that although the State Police number fewer than 200 there were 3700 applicants last year.

CAN it be that there are so many men in Massachusetts who do not know the isolated monadnock in Princeton, who have not enjoyed that wonderful view, "embracing 300 villages and parts of six States"?

Where IS Mt. Wachusett? Surely you can tell.

WAR TALK IS OFTEN CAUSE OF WAR

By DR. FRANK CRANE

A GERMAN leader, Dr. Paul Oestreich, declares that America and England will certainly be driven into war. They will both woo Germany for an ally, and in this way Germany will rise in the council of nations.

We have had among our own people men who predict that war is certain. They say that human nature cannot be changed and that war is inevitably due to ensue.

Lloyd George says: "In every country it is part of the business of the fighting staff to work out a plan for defense against all conceivable enemies. They gloat over their efficiency and, like every inventor, yearn to put their machine to a test, until possible war soon becomes likely and a likely war gradually glides into the inevitable."

From time immemorial nations and tribes have sought to "protect" themselves by increasing their armaments. A considerable portion of the press is urging the United States greatly to increase armaments on sea and land in order to "protect" itself.

There never was a nation that could so protect itself. Greece tried it, and Rome and Spain and Germany and Russia, and they all fell.

The best protection for a nation is for it to form some kind of combination with other nations which public sentiment will endorse that shall abolish war as a final arbiter.

The most hopeful sign today is that people are finding out that war not only costs them money and valuable lives, but destroys property and sets back business.

It would be a good thing if every boy and girl in the country were compelled to serve two years under the tutelage of army officers in constructing great public works, such as the Boulder Dam and the Mississippi reclamation projects.

There is no objection to universal conscription if it is universal, and if it is not primarily for the purpose of fighting. These boys and girls would be potential soldiers in case we were ever attacked, but their employment upon constructive works would not be in the nature of a provocation of war to other nations.

And peace-talking brings peace, just as war talk brings war. The question after all is one of public opinion and the sooner that public opinion is turned away from causes of war and toward the efforts of peace the better will be our prospects.

LISTEN, WORLD!

By ELSIE ROBINSON

WHY do you detest most "self-controlled" people? Because they really aren't controlled at all. They're the bunk—and you instinctively sense it. There's Henry Barret, for example. Henry's a stiff, still, sourish man. He never flies into tempers or bursts into tears or tears his collar for any reason whatsoever. He has a duco finish that will withstand any temperature and he glories in the fact.

Theoretically, this marvelous "control" should make Henry of priceless value to humanity. People should love him because he doesn't get mad, and lean on him because of his strength. They should clap their hands when they see him coming. But they do nothing of the sort. They hate the very sight of him. They see red whenever anyone mentions Henry's "self-control." And rightly—for it isn't "control" at all. It's merely a hard mask for a most miserable spirit.

Henry built that mask in a bitter school. Henry was reared by selfish, bad-tempered parents who had no understanding of or sympathy with little boys. If Henry bothered or inconvenienced them he was punished. Henry learned two things. He learned to be afraid, constantly. And he learned how to evade parents' punishment. He evaded parents by storing his bothers up inside himself. All his childish terrors, all the unanswered questions, all the puzzling decisions, he stored up inside his own troubled little heart. Outwardly Henry became a "model child." And he built a mask which later on he called "self-control," but which was merely a mask of fear.

Henry learned how to evade parents—and he learned how to evade life. But he never learned how to be truly strong or wise or balanced or good natured—nor how to make decisions or adjust himself. Beneath his mask Henry is still a frightened, angry, bewildered, unadjusted child. And people, sensing this, dislike him and distrust him.

That's one kind of self-control—the kind the psychologists say is Bad Medicine for human beings. Jim Wood has another kind of self-control—the real stuff.

Everyone likes good-natured, generous Jim. Better than that, everyone trusts him, for behind that happy-go-lucky exterior Jim has a store of strength, wisdom, courage and initiative. Jim has real control over himself and life. He has his parents to thank for that. They taught Jim that control when he was a very little shaver. They were patient when he asked questions and wrestled with troublesome decisions. They never let him run away from people or things or thoughts. They led him tenderly but firmly up to life—and up to himself—and made his adjust himself to life.

ELSIE ROBINSON
TWO KINDS OF SELF-CONTROL – WHICH IS YOURS?

Today the man Jim has hold of himself. Life doesn't get his goat. He doesn't merely bottle up his rages and confusions. He doesn't have rages and confusions. He's really adjusted and balanced—he's really self-controlled.

Two kinds of self-control—one a tragedy, the other a continual victory—which kind have you?

New York Day by Day

by O. O. McINTYRE

NEW YORK, April 6—Thoughts while strolling: Who remembers when it was smart to carry a menthol inhaler? Frisco, the jazz dancer, with a white lapel flower. What has become of flag pole sitters? Morris Gest's flaring overcoat. William Thaw III.

The detectives who hang around out-of-town newspaper stands. William Seeman, Mayor Walker's closest friend. Also Rube Goldberg's brother-in-law. Bruce Barton resembles Gene Tunney. The beautiful but bored. A flivver lettered on the side with "The Spirit of Canarsie."

Park Avenue Vere de Veres who look on a trip to Broadway as slumming. The old medicine street faker who wears a snakeskin necktie. More glorified sandwich parlors—with opulent, bediamonded proprietors. The East Side cymbolum players are moving to uptown cafes. A department store offers free chlorine gas treatment for colds. A chicken escapes from a crate and a street is enthralled. A blase burg. A new pharmaceutical triumph—a heart shaped ham sandwich. The sudden desolation below 42d street.

It was once supercharged with the vitality only the Rialto can bestow. But activity picks up again at Herald squre. The Sixth avenue quick lunches. With window menus hektographed. Six prunes to the dish. And free toothpiks. Chipped blue sugar bowls and newspapers held in clasps with handles.

Cheap furriers. Basement upholstering, carpentering and glazing shops. The studio in the Beaux Arts where Isadora Duncan once held forth. Men who sneak into Automats while those who can afford expensive places stroll in. Shooting gallery rat-a-tat-tat and penny peeps at "Fun in a Lady's Bath House."

A window sign painter orders a crowd of curious away. Still you know how artists are! An old time queensware store with the usual dinginess. Soiled shaggy white dogs sent out to promenade alone. Shadowy halls and little girls in pigtails with rag dolls.

BRUCE REYNOLDS, one of the bright, particular spirits of the Lambs, had his fun this season producing a play written by himself even if it did set him back some $30,000. He traveled his troupers about in a private car, fed them the best the best hotels afforded and gave them what to their Thespic minds seemed a Roman holiday. The play sparkled with snappy dialogue, but did not linger. The plot, if any, was a little too weak.

When Reynolds saw it was destined for the warehouse, he sent each member of his company the following telegram: "Immediately after the performance tonight you are cordially invited to the corner of Chambers street and Broadway to see your illustrious author dive off the Woolworth building into a teacup full of water."

Reynolds took the thrust like a true chevalier and offered no alibis. "It was fun and like all good fun costly," he says. He is one of the characters who enliven the high spots of Broadway. Recently he made what he called an alcoholic tour of Europe which furnished material for his book, "Cocktail Continentale." He has gone to Europe to remain a year.

A MULTI-MILLIONAIRE has his auto monogrammed with the initials of his chauffeur. That is just one of his innumerable gestures to not appear conspicuous. I lean, however, to the good old Tom Mix method. On his palatial home at Catalina Tom has his name in electric lights on the roof.

Don't Get Mad About It

lions of his men and ten thousand millions of his money to help other countries in war, gets gratitude in return, is MISTAKEN.

This particular cartoon is from a Mexican newspaper, El Liberador, published in Mexico City.

Under his cartoon the Mexican editor writes: "The combined efforts of the Latin-American nations can tear down the monument of commercial imperialism erected by the United States."

As a matter of fact it would be rather a bad thing for Mexico if the combined efforts of the Latin-American nations should "tear down the monument of commercial imperialism erected by the United States."

Our Mexican friends can give to American prosperity and industrial genius what name they please. But as a matter of fact it is the money produced by Americans that has built up Mexico.

It is American money that our Mexican friends borrow to build their railroads.

And heaven knows this country, which could quite simply march down and take all the territory between the Rio Grande and the Panama Canal, is patient and long suffering.

While the Mexicans talk about tearing down American prosperity, American industrial and engineering genius is building up Mexico. It is the United States that built the Panama Canal, admitting Mexican ships to that canal on the same terms as American ships, and enabling the Mexican goods to travel from their east to their west coast promptly and cheaply.

All of this, of course, is talk. The little man sometimes foolishly envies the big man. The little nation sometimes foolishly envies the big nation.

As our friends of the South American republics grow more powerful and wealthier, they will concentrate their attention on building up their own possibilities, which are unlimited, instead of thinking about tearing down this country, which is the mainspring of prosperity to a good many of them.
